Danger of Strike Averted—Hearing Begun on Increases for 70,000 Express Workers.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, July 22.—Increases of 20 per cent in passenger rates, from 8 to 10 per cent in freight tariffs and 24 to 21 per cent in milk transportation charges, were asked of the Interstate Commerce Commission today by the railroad board.

The carriers also propose that an additional surcharge of 50 per cent be made on the charge for space occupied in either parlor or sleeping cars.

The freight rate increases requested are in addition to those on which hearings recently were held and which the carriers have estimated would yield them $1,017,000,000. The wage advances granted by the Labor Board had not been taken into account when the roads made their first application.

While the commission did not indicate when it would hold hearings on the new applications, the general expectation is that decision in all of the cases will be announced simultaneously so as to obviate the trouble and expense incident to the promulgation of two separate new tariff schedules by the roads.

The executives estimated that passenger rate increases would net $233,827,938 additional revenue and the advance on milk and express rates would yield $338,370,675. Should all of the freight advances be granted, the nation's freight bill would be increased by a total of approximately $1,355,000,000 annually.

CHICAGO, July 22.—A decision tonight on whether the 18 railroad unions will accept the $600,000,000 wage award was promised today by T. E. Shepherd when the brotherhood chiefs resumed their conference.

Union officials refused to comment on the reports that they were divided, seven favoring acceptance, seven a referendum with recommendation of acceptance, one a referendum without recommendation, one flat rejection of the award and one undecided. Privately they said a referendum seemed the only possible course.

If a vote by all union members is ordered the award will be tentatively accepted so that the men will get the increased pay for this month, and the back pay from May 1, as provided by the retroactive feature of the Railway Labor Board's decision. A referendum will take at least 30 days.

No Danger of Strike Seen.

At the close of an all-night session, at which no agreement was reached on a plan for concerted action, six of the brotherhoods, in addition to the Masters, Matrons and Pilots of America, had expressed their decision as favorable to acceptance of the award in its entirety; seven favored referring the question to the unions with recommendation that it be accepted; two were undecided; one, the Brotherhood of Railway Telegraphers, had decided to reject the award and was said to be preparing for a strike ballot.

Despite the difference of opinion among the leaders, the union chiefs reiterated today that there was no danger of an immediate and concerted strike. They also were inclined to believe reported efforts of members of the Chicago Teamsters' Association, 150 of whom struck in Chicago yesterday, to bring about a general walkout, and declared that sporadic strikes would be fought to the last ditch by the international unions.

The Railway Labor Board, which yesterday declined to reopen the railway wage cases at the request of the brotherhoods and expressed the opinion that it had done all possible in the case of the railroad employees, today began hearings on the application for increased pay of 70,000 employees of the American Express Co.

WILLIAM K. VANDERBILT.BURGLARY INSURANCE
RATES IN ST. LOUIS
HIGHEST IN U. S.High Cost of Protection Due to Burglary Losses, and Not to Liquor Theft.

Residents of St. Louis are now paying the highest rates in the United States in burglary insurance. The new rates, which became effective last Monday, rank St. Louis with Chicago, Cook County, and St. Clair County, Ill. New York City has lower rates than either St. Louis or Chicago.

The increase in rates according to the local offices of insurance companies is due to their general experience with burglary losses in the last year and not to the theft of liquors, as is popularly supposed. Where formerly a premium of $30.50 was charged on a $5000 policy, it is now $46.50. On a $10,000 policy the increase is smaller as the rates decrease as the amount of insurance increases. Before the new rates were effective a $1000 policy in a local company, but under the new scale it costs $5. In New York the same policy costs $4 at present.

WM. K. VANDERBILT
DIES IN PARIS OF HEART DISEASE

American Financier Was Eldest Member of Well-Known Family—70 Years Old Last December.

WAS KNOWN AS A LOVER OF SPORTS

Became Ill While Attending Races at Auteuil, France, April 15 and Condition Grew Critical Yesterday.

By the Associated Press.

PARIS, July 22.—William K. Vanderbilt, the American financier, died here today.

Vanderbilt's death occurred at six o'clock this evening. At the bedside were his wife, his daughter, the Duchess of Marlborough, his two sons, William K. Jr., and Harold, and Dr. Edmund Gros, the family physician in Paris.

The funeral will be held Monday next from the American Church, in the Avenue d'Alma. The body later will be taken to the United States where it will be buried in the family plot on Staten Island.

Vanderbilt, who was an ardent racing enthusiast and sportsman, became suddenly ill while attending the races at Auteuil, April 15. His condition next day was pronounced as much better. Since that time there have been rumors that he was seriously ill, but subsequently denied.

Vanderbilt was the eldest surviving member of the Vanderbilt family. He celebrated his seventieth birthday on June 13 last. His only brother, Cornelius Vanderbilt, who was the elder of the two, died in 1893. His only daughter, Consuelo, married the Duke of Marlborough in 1895.

His illness was diagnosed as heart disease with complications.

Was Railroad Executive.

William Kissam Vanderbilt, son of William H. and grandson of Commodore Vanderbilt, was one of the most prominent railroad executives, financiers and sportsmen in the United States, passed much of his time in recent years abroad. The Duke of Marlborough married his only daughter, Consuelo, in 1895.

Vanderbilt was long a patron of the French turf, of yachting and of automobile racing in the United States. He was the donor of the "Vanderbilt Cup" for which motor speed kings contested a decade or more ago on Long Island. He owned a racing stable at Poissy, France, which he augmented greatly in 1912 by purchasing the Alva, which was having built the Alva, which was owned by James R. Keene. Notable among his string of Derby and Grand Prix winners were "Maintenant," "His Prestige," "Northeast," "Negotio" and "Gibelin." Besides having built the Alva, which was sunk, and the Valiant, steam yacht, he was a member of several syndicates organized to build defenders of the America's Cup.

During the war Vanderbilt was active in hospital work and relief work in promoting the work of the Lafayette Escadrille. On one occasion he contributed $40,000 to the Neuilly hospital fund and at another time gave 1,000,000 lire toward war relief in Italy. Because of his work for the American aviators in France he was made honorary president of the Lafayette Escadrille and presented with the rosette of the Legion of Honor. During the summer of 1919 Vanderbilt was reported to have presented to his daughter, the Duchess of Marlborough, a gift of $15,000,000.

Born on Staten Island.

Vanderbilt was born on Staten Island, N. Y., Dec. 12, 1849. After receiving an academic education in America he studied for several years in Geneva, Switzerland. He married Miss A. H. Belmont in 1874 and to them were born, besides Consuelo, two other children, William K. Jr. and Harold Vanderbilt. On April 23, 1903, Vanderbilt married Mrs. A. H. Rutherford in London.

Upon completing his studies in Switzerland, he entered the office of C. C. Clarke, treasurer of the Hudson River Railroad, first as a bookkeeper, and was gradually placed in positions of trust and responsibility in connection with the great Vanderbilt railroad system. From 1917 to 1920 he was second vice president of the New York Central & Hudson River Railroad.

ILLINOIS MINES TIED UP WHEN
"DAY MEN" STRIKE

Half of All Mines in the State Are Idle and Remainder Will Close Monday, State President Announces.

MEN ASK 25 CENTS
AN HOUR INCREASE

2500 Men in Madison County Rendered Idle When Motormen in Six Mines Leave Their Jobs.

An unauthorized strike of "day men" at the Illinois coal mines, which began yesterday in the Southern Illinois field, spread today to Madison County in the Belleville district and it is feared that it will spread over the Belleville district and to the Central Illinois district, of which Springfield is the center, and the Northern Illinois district, with Peoria as its center.

Half the mines in Illinois are idle and by Monday all will be down, and all union miners out on a strike, according to an announcement this morning by Frank Farrington, president of the State organization, after receiving telegrams from many local unions.

The "day men," so called because they are paid by the day, are few in number, but their refusal to work results in the closing of the mines, through the diggers out of work. The complaint of the day men is that they did not receive a fair share of the increase which was granted to the miners in October. Their demand is for an increase of 25 cents an hour over their present scale of $5.54 per day.

The strike has not been sanctioned by the officials of the United Mine Workers. It is known to have been effected by an independent organization for the purpose of the strike but their concerted action implies an understanding with the union.

There is a good deal of insurgency in the Illinois fields, the leadership of which is centered around Belleville and Collinsville. There were two or three insurgent strikes last year, culminating in an attempt to overthrow the State officers of the mine workers, but they failed.

2500 in Madison County.

Six mines in Madison County closed down this morning and from 2200 to 2500 men were obliged to cease work when the motormen who handle cars that take coal to the foot of the mine shafts quit work.

Of the mines affected, four are at Collinsville, one at Prairieville and one at Edwardsville. Others are expected to close in the course of the day as the motormen in other mines quit work.

Three mines at O'Fallon closed today, about 700 men going out, according to reports received at Belleville headquarters of the United Mine Workers. It was reported that 900 men were out at Collinsville.

Workers in the Danville District, numbering 4500, received orders to strike at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon.

The strike has been reported to be beyond his control. The wage award of the Government last April was so unfair to "day" men and has been recognized so by operators, he said, that effort to keep the mine at work are useless. Telegrams report that strike votes are virtually all unanimous.

This trouble was brought to a head by action of the Chicago conference this week, when operators refused to yield to the demands without the approval of Federal officials.

Although there was no walkout by the miners in sympathy with the motormen, it was necessary to close the mines because there was no method of hauling the coal to the foot of the shafts for hoisting and the passage-ways could not be kept clear.

Miners Express Sympathy.

The miners express entire accord with the demands of the motormen, however, saying that in the allotment of wages agreed on with the Fuel Administration, on which the present scale is based, the motormen did not get their fair proportion.

The motormen work 8 hours a day and the increase demanded would bring their pay to $5.54 per day.

To Strike August 1.

Announcement was made by the miners' officials at Stanton that a strike would be called in the mines there Aug. 1 unless the demands of the motormen were granted. This will involve about 2500 more men there. It also was announced that

Notable Expressions on Public Policies in Senator Harding's Speech

The Peace Treaty.

I PROMISE you formal and effective peace so quickly as a Republican Congress can pass its declaration for a Republican executive to sign. It will avail nothing to discuss in detail the league covenant, which was conceived for world super-government, negotiated in misunderstanding, and intolerantly urged and demanded by its administration sponsors, who resisted every effort to safeguard America, and who finally rejected it when such safeguards were inserted.

It is better to be the free and disinterested agent of international justice and advancing civilization, with the covenant of conscience, than be shackled by a written compact which surrenders our freedom of action and gives to a military alliance the right to proclaim America's duty to the world.

With a Senate advising as the Constitution contemplates, I would hope to approach the nations of Europe and of the earth proposing that understanding which makes us a willing participant in the consecration of nations to a new relationship, to commit the moral force of the United States to peace and international justice, still leaving America free, independent and self-reliant, but offering friendship to all the world. If men call for more specific details, I remind them that moral commitments are broad and all inclusive, and we are contemplating peoples in the concord of humanity's advancement. From our own viewpoint the program is specifically American, and we mean to be Americans first, to all the world.

For Party Government.

Let me be understood clearly from the very beginning. I believe in party sponsorship in government. I believe in party government as distinguished from personal government, individualism, dictatorship, autocracy or what not.

Full Return for Wage.

I wish the higher wage to abide, on one explicit condition—that the wage earner will give full return for the wage received.

Equal Right to Work.

We do not oppose, but approve collective bargaining, because that is an outstanding right, but we are unalterably insistent that its exercise must not destroy the equally sacred right of the individual, in his necessary pursuit of livelihood. Any American has the right to quit his employment, so has every American the right to seek employment.

No Strike Against U. S.

The strike against the Government is properly denied, for Government service involves none of the elements of profit which relates to competitive enterprise.

America First.

I like that recommitment to thoughts of America first which pledges the Panama Canal, an American creation, to the free use of American shipping. It will add to the American re-awakening.

Law Enforcement.

I believe in law enforcement. If elected I mean to be a constitutional President, and it is impossible to ignore the Constitution, unthinkable to evade the law, when our every commitment is to orderly government. People ever will differ about the wisdom of the enactment of a law—there is divided opinion respecting the Eighteenth Amendment and the laws enacted to make it operative—but there can be no difference of opinion about honest law enforcement.

Secretary Detained After Body Is Discovered in Hotel at Chicago.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, July 22.—M. L. Pindexter, a South Haven, Mich., real estate dealer, was found dead in his room in a hotel here today, with a bullet hole behind his right ear. Police are investigating the death and are holding for questioning his secretary, Mrs. Ora Walters, who occupied an adjoining room. Mrs. Walters said Pindexter had lost $50,000 in a real estate deal.

PERSHING IN CIVILIAN DRESS RECOGNIZED BY A FEW IN BOSTON

General Passes Through City on Way to Nausubon Island for Short Stay.

By the Associated Press.

BOSTON, July 22.—Gen. Pershing in uniform is a figure familiar to the country. John Pershing in civilian clothes is passed unnoticed by thousands on the streets of this city.

The leader of the American Expeditionary Forces, in passing through Boston to begin a short stay at Nausubon Island, today, as the guest of W. Cameron Forbes, former Governor-General of the Philippines, was recognized by only one person.

The General strolled about with his son, Warren, and his aide, in conventional dark suit, Panama hat, soft collar and white tie, an unassuming figure, yet one which did not obtain recognition on streets through which he had passed on parade a few months ago.

Gen. Pershing said he was on brief leave of absence to obtain a rest, and that his visit had no connection with plans for reorganization of the Northeast Department. He confirmed reports, however, that the army's investigations are expected to be lengthy.

Marion Decorated in Patriotic Frills and Flounces—Glee and Marching Clubs in Great Variety Pass Harding Home and Acclaim Standard Bearer.

By the Associated Press.

MARION, O., July 22.—A pledge of constitutional government, administered by party and not by individual and based on national rather than world ideals, was given by Warren G. Harding today in accepting formally the Republican nomination for the Presidency. He welcomed a popular referendum on the League of Nations, advocated increased production to cut the high cost of living, pleaded for obliteration of sectional and class conflict, and declared for industrial peace "not forced but inspired by the common will."

Prohibition he gave only a passing notice, saying that despite divided opinion regarding the eighteenth amendment and the statutes enacted to make it operative, there must be no evasion in their enforcement. He declared it his "sincere desire" that ratification of the suffrage amendment be completed to permit women to vote this fall in every state.

Reviewing and commending briefly many other planks of the party platform, the candidate declared for collective bargaining for farmers, for Federal co-operation in rehabilitating the railroads, intelligent deflation of the currency, enlargement of Government aid in reclamation, a repudiation of the divvied Federal veterans of the World War, the maintenance of an ample navy and a "small army but the best in the world."

In his promise of "a party government," Senator Harding reiterated his belief that the Vice President should have a part in the affairs of the chief executive's official capacity, and declared there also should be a "cordial understanding and co-ordinated activities" between the executive and Congress. "No man," he said, "is big enough to run this great republic. Our first commitment is the restoration of representative popular government, under the Constitution, through the agency of the Republican party."

Nate Jackson, the national chairman, was the presiding officer at the notification, for which the city had refitted its Chautauque pavilion. The program included an invocation by Bishop William F. Oldham of the Methodist Episcopal Church, the formal notification speech by Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, chairman of the Notification Committee, Senator Harding's response and a benediction by Father Joseph M. Denning, pastor of St. Mary's Catholic Church here.

Long before noon the delegations tramped on one another's heels, and the candidate had to abandon hope of shaking hands with all of those who came. He took his position on the steps of his porch and smilingly waved acknowledgments as the howling throng marched past.

He got an extra round of applause from one delegation when he

their howling acclaim the Senator played the leading part in a flag-raising, pulling the Stars and Stripes to the top of the weather-beaten McKinley flag-pole sent here a few days ago from Canton.

Delegation after delegation, with bands blaring and colors flying, followed up to the Harding front porch as 30 special trains and thousands of automobiles unloaded their contributions to the notification crowd. Not content with showing themselves to the nominee, they reformed and marched and counter-marched through the city in a riot of noise and color.

Marion was magnificently dressed for her debut in the great affairs of the nation, and was bubbling over with eagerness to make the big day a smashing success. Patriotic frills and flounces draped the city from tip to toe. Business was adjourned and partisanship was forgotten as Republicans and Democrats joined in acknowledging the honor that had come to one of their neighbors.

From the Senator's home down to the heart of the business section a lane of tall white pillars formed a spotless court of honor to mark the route of the parades, and along the way scarcely a window was without its portrait of the Republican candidate. Flags and bunting were displayed in carnival profusion in every street.

Lamchew for the Crowd.

Painstaking arrangements had been made to provide a luncheon for the crowds, and improvised sandwich stands were everywhere. Profiteering had been put under the ban by agreement of the city's business men and many households had laid in an extra supply of food to make sure that no one went hungry. Most of the public counters were under supervision of the churches.

The purple, white and gold of the woman suffrage cause early made its appearance in the gathering crowds but a plan of the women to picket the notification ceremonies was abandoned.

Will H. Hays, the national chairman, was the presiding officer at the notification, for which the city had refitted its Chautauque pavilion. The program included an invocation by Bishop William F. Oldham of the Methodist Episcopal Church, the formal notification speech by Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, chairman of the Notification Committee, Senator Harding's response and a benediction by Father Joseph M. Denning, pastor of St. Mary's Catholic Church here.

U. R. CARMEN NOT SATISFIED WITH 5-CENT INCREASE

President of Union Says Award of Public Service Commission Is "an Insult to the Men."

ADVANCE IN FARE
LIKELY TO BE SOUGHT

Employees, When Asking for Arbitration May 11, Agreed to "Religiously Abide By" the Findings.

Dissatisfaction with the wage increase of 5 cents an hour awarded to more than 5000 employees of the United Railways Co. by the State Public Service Commission was expressed generally by motormen, conductors and shopmen today. H. M.
Nelson, president of the local street car men's union, declared that the commission's action, announced in Jefferson City late yesterday afternoon, was "an insult to the men."
He said he would have preferred to have conditions remain as they were,
and that he did not understand how the members of the commission, as intelligent men, could have reached such a decision.

He said the Executive Committee of the union would meet as soon as the official text of the award is received from Jefferson City. The proposal of arbitration by the Public Service Commission was made by the union, and the union, in a letter to Receiver Wells May 11, said, "If the board finds for or against us, we will religiously abide by their decision."
Nelson remarked that the increase would hardly more than suffice to make up to conductors the money which they now lose through the company's automatic fare boxes.

These losses, he said, are caused in the wrong registering of defective coins, and sometimes by defects in the boxes. These result in deficits being charged against the conductors,
which are posted at the end of each month. At some sheds, he said, these deficits reach $200 to $300 a day, and the loss to men is often between 40 cents and $1 a day.

Many Men Quitting.
Nelson said men had been quitting at the rate of 15 a month, and that he thought some who had been waiting on the prospective increase in pay would be likely to quit.

Receiver Wells in his correspondence with the union, lately said that the company had sufficient applicants to fill all vacancies.

Receiver Wells in his correspondence with the union, lately said that the company had sufficient applicants to fill all vacancies.

Perkins said the company had been about "breaking even," with the help of the heavy earnings of May and June, which are always among the best months of the year.

City to Oppose Fare Increase.
Mayor Kiel said that the city would oppose vigorously any proposal to increase fares. "The company should be able, with the 7-cent fare,
to absorb this comparatively small increase in wages," the Mayor said.

Street car men seen by Post-Dispatch reporters at the De Baliviere sheds and at the Olive street headquarters, 2225 Olive street, expressed themselves, almost without exception, as disappointed and offended
by the award. Their request, pending since last March, was for an increase of 20 to 25 cents an hour over the prevailing scale of 50 to 60 cents for motormen and conductors. This would have been 40 to 50 per cent.
The commission's award, which is not more than 10 per cent.

J. A. Foglia, representing the shop men on the Executive Board of the union, said that dissatisfaction
among them over the award was general. So far as he knew, all the shop men were at work today.

Manager Perkins said he had not been able to judge, from the reports of the commission's award, whether all the company's employees were included in the increase of 5 cents an hour. Car employees affiliated with the union are only about two-thirds of the company's payroll, he said.

Details of the Award.
The findings and awards, as announced by the Public Service Com-

Bonded Warehouse at Valley Park From Which 1836 Gallons of Whisky Was Stolen

mission last evening, are set forth as follows:

There are to be no changes in hours and working conditions.
Schedule of platform wages
shall be as follows:
First year—45 cents an hour.
Second year—50 cents an hour.
Third year, 55 cents an hour.
Extra men, a minimum of $100 a month, provided said extra men shall be available for service at heavy loading points for collection
of tickets and issuing transfers, when required.

The wages of other employees,
for whom a specific rate per hour
is demanded, shall be increased 5 cents per hour.
All increases in wages shall become effective June 1, 1920. The payment of increased wages as detailed above shall begin Aug. 1, 1920. The company (or receiver) shall have five months, ending Jan. 1, 1921, in which to pay back wages. The payment of back wages shall be made in equal monthly installments.

Memorandum Attached.
The commission attached to its
award a memorandum reading:
"If an increase of 5 cents an hour
is granted to other employees not affected by specific demands, the total increase in operating expenses will approximate $800,000 a year."

Counting the present increase as 10 per cent, the increase in street car men's wages since June 1, 1918, has been slightly more than 115 per cent. By the original strike agreement, an increase of 35 per cent was granted. This wage scale, 135 per cent of the original, was increased by one-tenth, the result is 215.325
per cent of the original amount.

Wells, in a reply, requested the men to defer their request until the valuation of the company's property,
by the State Commission, should be completed. The men, meeting May 10, voted not to comply with Wells' request.

The union, in a letter to Wells,
announcing its decision, declared:
"There is but one thing that either of us can fairly do, and that is to submit our respective sides to a disinterested board of arbitration, and be governed by their award. If this board finds for or against us, we will
religiously abide by their decision.
We have confidence in the righteousness of our cause, and feel that any disinterested board will sustain our position. Probably if the board did sustain our demands, it would necessitate a slight increase in fare, and to per cent, that no hardship be worked upon the railways company,
we are willing and now offer to accept the Public Service Commission of Missouri as a board of arbitration. It is a commission composed of able, high-minded gentlemen, in a position to give you such relief as will be necessary in the event that their award be such that you cannot carry it out with your present revenue."

Wells then agreed to ask the permission of the United States Court to submit the matter to the commission's arbitration. Judge Fair-bank granted this request May 19. The first hearing was held by the Commission June 24.

W. Leslie, 51 years old, and his stepmother, Mrs. Elizabeth Leslie, 86 years old, a wealthy resident of that community, and their marriage.
News of which recently came from Maryville, Mo., where the ceremony was performed.

The pair went to Maryville June 21, and were married there the afternoon of the following day in the office of the County Recorder, Don
S. Baker, by the Rev. R. E. Snodgrass, pastor of the Christian Church at Maryville. So weak and feeble was the bride that the bridegroom had to support her to keep her from falling while the marriage vows were being made.

The bridegroom obtained the license and was married under the name of William W. Russell, but at the request of the parties, the minister changed the name on the license, as well as on the marriage certificate, to Leslie.
Leslie did not disclose his relationship at Maryville, according to reports, but stated that the woman
he was making his wife had been like a mother to him and that he wished her to inherit his estate. The two are owners of nearly 1000 acres of land in Edna Township, the greater part of which is in the name of Mary E. Leslie, while some of it is held jointly by another part in the name of the husband. It is said to be worth $300 an acre.

The aged bride is the widow of John Leslie, Civil War Veteran, member of the Board of Supervisors of Cass County from 1870 to 1875,
Township Assessor in 1874 and 1875.
After his death his widow and his son continued to live on the farm he

ILLINOIS MINES ARE TIED UP WHEN "DAY MEN" STRIKE

a mine at Maryville, which had not closed earlier in the day, probably would shut down the afternoon. In one of the mines at Collinsville some company employees appeared for work, but the miners remained away.

May Cause Shortage Here.
Two of the mines closed down are conducted by the Donk Bros. Coal and Coke Co. of this city and others
by the Consolidated Coal Co., of which Kingston Gould is president.

President Conrades of Donk Bros.
stated this morning that the situation might prove serious for the St.
Louis coal market and that he believed the men were making a grave mistake by going out at this time.
The coal situation in St. Louis is bad enough now," he said, "and if this trouble is protracted it will make it even worse. We are holding a conference now to see what can be done. The men seemed satisfied with the wage scale when it was handed down, and this trouble has developed unexpectedly. The notice
we received is that the men still at work in the mines are going to walk out in the morning unless an adjustment is made."

12,000 MEN OUT IN ONE ILLINOIS COAL DISTRICT

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, July 22.—Strikes of day laborers in the Southern Illinois coal fields, with demands for higher wages, today had closed more than a score of mines in the important Franklin County coal fields. Reports said that approximately 12,000 men were idle.

The day laborers, including drivers, timbermen and pumpmen, average $5.50 per day and are demanding $12 per day increase.

Members of the Illinois Coal Operators' Association, who had been in conference here, sent representatives to Washington with a plea to reopen
the miners' wage hearings. President E. O. Searies of the association said the operators could not grant
the increases unless they were sanctioned by the Federal Coal Commission. President Frank Farrington of the Illinois miners' union said he would try to persuade the striking miners to return pending negotiations to reopen the wage hearings.

MILITARY FUNERAL FOR LIEUT. W. C. MCCARRON

Scott Field Officers to Serve as Pallbearers for St. Louis
Flyer Saturday.

A military funeral will be given Lieut. William C. McCarron, son of
Mr. and Mrs. J. L. McCarron, 5806
Enright avenue, who died Tuesday night at Fort McPherson, Atlanta, Ga., of injuries sustained in an airplane accident near Sandersville, Ga., July 12.

Services will be held at St. Rose's Church, Goodfellow and Maple avenues, Saturday morning, and interment will be at Calvary Cemetery.
Six aviation officers from Scott Field,
who served during the war with Lieut. McCarron, will be pallbearers, and a firing squad of Jefferson Barracks soldiers will fire a salute.

Lieut. McCarron was paralyzed from the fall, but during the latter part of last year he was taken to St. Louis for medical treatment. Improvement and was moved to the base hospital at Fort McPherson.
His parents, who went to Sander-ville to see him, returned home Sunday night after he was taken to the base hospital. Two sisters, Miss Virginia McCarron, and Mrs. George P. Shaner, were with him when he died.

COWGILL DECLARES FOR ATKINSON FOR GOVERNOR

Close Friend of Pendergast Is Believed to Reflect Choice of Kansas City Democratic Boss.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., July 22.—
Mayor James Cowgill today gave out
an interview here endorsing John M.
Atkinson for the Democratic nomination for Governor. Cowgill is a close political friend of Tom Pen-dergast, Democratic faction leader
here, who up to this time has kept his own counsel as to whom he will support in the gubernatorial race.

Democratic organization politicians in St. Louis are said to be waiting to see what Pendergast will do before making a clew for the investigators.

Butler said he had no doubt this
was the actual method employed by
the thieves. He said the flooring
was of double construction except
at one spot which had been chosen
for the hole, which was near the center of the floor. "Someone familiar
with that floor must have made the
particular spot should have been chosen."

Discovery of Robbery.
The theft was discovered Tuesday
by Governor's Storekeeper Schure, who on duty was to make periodic trips to the warehouse. On his last investigation, from two to three months ago, the contents was intact. With him when he made the discovery Tuesday was Raymond Fritzsche of Valley Park, secretary-treasurer of the company. The other members of the company and the Valley Park public did not learn of the robbery until they read of it in yesterday's papers.

The watch was said to have been maintained as usual Tuesday night.
The guards were stationed outside the building and were not required to inspect the contents.

The warehouse is a 36x45-foot
building, a half block south of St.
Louis avenue, the main street of that section of Valley Park called "New town," which is very sparsely settled. Nearby on St. Louis avenue are the Gem Moving Picture Theater and the Hudson Hotel. A block away is the Frisco railroad station.
To the southwest is the ice factory.
Someone is at the station and ice plant all night.

The disused distillery is about 50 feet south of the warehouse. It is a two-story building and its door faces
the warehouse door. To the west of the distillery, the main street of that section of Valley Park called "New

BELIEVES WHISKY THEFT IN COUNTY WAS DAY JOB AID POLES AGAINST RUSSIAN TROOPS

Government Agent Investigating Case Reaches Conclusion Robbery Occurred
Last Sunday.

The theft of 1836 gallons of whisky, in 42 "packages," from the Government bonded warehouse at Valley Park, which was discovered Tuesday morning, was committed in broad daylight last Sunday, is the belief of a St. Louis Enforcer. Government Agent Butler, who is investigating the robbery, held to this conclusion. He said he was not prepared to announce these facts.

The whisky was the property of the Fritzsche Distilling Co., which formerly operated a distillery in connection with the warehouse, and was in barrels and half-barrels. Up to two months ago the company had entire charge of the warehouse, but at that time the Government placed a night watchman there, and a month ago added another. The watchmen were on duty from 4 p.
m. to 8 a. m. and the company was in charge in day time.

The watchmen were Joseph Hertweck of Valley Park and Louis Dur-wick of Kirkwood. Butler questioned them yesterday and said he thought they were absolutely blameless in connection with the theft. He
that of Joseph T. Fritzsche, president of the company, in his office today.

The thieves adopted a novel and clever method of gaining access to the warehouse. Only a small oversight on their part led to a speedy explanation of the method, which might not otherwise have been readily discovered.

The warehouse, which is of wood construction covered by galvanized iron, stands on supports about two and one-half feet above the ground.
Sections of fencing extend between the supports. The robbers broke through a section of fencing and got under the building. Auger holes were bored in the floor on three sides of a space 12 by 15 inches and that section of the flooring was broken off.
The flooring is ordinary one-inch lumber.

Bored Holes Through Floor.

A crawl of 20 feet over a rough concrete wall to reach the warehouse. Only a small oversight on their part led to a speedy explanation of the method, which might not otherwise have been readily discovered.

The vehicle used for carrying away
the liquor was then presumably backed up to the platform at the doorway. Evidently to avoid leaving the warehouse by the hole-andauger method, the robbers moreover shut the door and replaced the harp, without going inside and replacing the nuts. They left the nuts on a shelf by the door and discovery of them was a clew for the investigators.

Butler said he had no doubt this
was the actual method employed by
was of double construction except
at one spot which had been chosen
for the hole, which was near the center of the floor. "Someone familiar
with that floor must have made the
particular spot should have been
chosen."

U. S. Legation Suggests American Women Leave Warsaw as Precaution

WARSAW, July 21.
PURELY as a precautionary measure, in event the Bolsheviki menace Warsaw, the American legation has suggested that American women, with dependent workers and wives of Americans prepare to depart within the next few days. It is estimated about 100 American women are in Poland.

The American Relief Commission has more than 1000 cars of food in Poland, valued at $3,000-600, and clothing worth about $11,000,000.

PARIS, July 22.—The allies have decided to take measures preparatory to giving military aid to Poland, if that should prove necessary,
it was learned here today.

A French mission, headed by Jules J. Jusseph, French Ambassador to the United States, who is home on leave, with Gen. Weygand, right-hand man of Marshal Foch, and M.
Vignon, a close collaborator with Premier Millerand, will leave tonight for Warsaw to arrange for prompt succor to the Poles.

On the same train, and with the same object, there will be a British mission headed by Lord Abernethy, British Ambassador at Berlin, Gen.
Radcliffe and Sir Maurice Hankey.
These missions, it is learned, leave with full authority to say to the Poles whatever aid is needed, and will be forthcoming if the Bolsheviki parade in a design to march into distinctly Polish territory.

It is stated unofficially, but on high authority, that this means help for Poland in the form of troops, if they are required.

Already a large number of Allied officers and subalterns are with the Polish Army, which, it is declared,
will be increased according to circumstances with as many divisions of infantry, tank detachments, air forces and artillery as may be transported in due time.

Text of Soviet's Reply to Great Britain's Request.

LONDON, July 21.—Poland has been told to apply to the Russian Soviet Government for an armistice.
In order to test the sincerity of the Soviet's statement that Russia is willing to make peace with Poland,
The British note dispatched to Moscow yesterday assumes that the Soviet is ready to make peace, although some arguments put forth cast doubt on this.

It is regarded in political quarters
that according to the Russian note
there are two parties in Moscow,
and whether the war or peace party will prevail will not be known before the end of the week.

The refusal of the Russian Soviet Government to cease war against Poland at the behest of Great Britain is contained in a Moscow wireless dispatch today. The refusal also constitutes an appeal to the workers and peasants of Soviet Russia and the Ukraine. It is signed by Premier Lenin, Minister of War
Trotzky, Foreign Minister Tchitcher-
in and Commissioner of Justice Kurski, and says:

"The British Government addressed a proposal to us July 11 to cease war against Poland and begin peace negotiations with Poland and other border states, promising that the Polish troops in case of an armistice being concluded would retreat to a front marked last year by the peace conference.

"It was proposed that Gen.
Wrangel and his Crimean shelter should not be touched. To all this,
we, the Council of People's Commissaries, answered by refusal.

"If England had not desired war
she would have stopped supplying Poland with munitions and money.
England is carrying on negotiations with us as a concession to her working masses. Lord Curzon (the British Foreign Secretary) places it upon the League of Nations, in whose name he is making the proposal, but Poland enters into the composition of this League—Poland, who commenced a robber war against us.

"All the members of the league,
especially England and France and America, are bound hand in hand
in this provocative war of Poland against Russia and the Ukraine.

"Our refusal of hostile mediation
does not mean that we have altered
our policy towards Poland, and we more than once have proposed peace to Warsaw, and if she will now appeal to us directly, peaceful relations will be established between Russia and Poland, among the better and more substantially in this way."

The communication says the real frontiers which the Soviet Government will establish with representatives of the Polish people will be east

imperialists in London and Paris,"
who "are equally inimical and hostile

TEXT OF SENATOR HARDING'S SPEECH OF ACCEPTANCE

Praises Senate as Savior of the Constitution by Its Fight for Reservations to League Covenant

Ready to Sign Congressional Peace Resolution and Adjust Foreign Affairs Afterward— Says Men May Disagree on Wisdom of 18th Amendment, but Law Must Be Enforced.

MARION, O., July 22.—Following is the complete text of the speech of acceptance of the Republican nomination for President as delivered today by Senator Warren G. Harding:

CHAIRMAN LODGE, members of the Notification Committee, members of the National Committee, ladies and gentlemen: The message which you have formally conveyed brings to me a realization of responsibility which is not underestimated. It is a supreme task to interpret the covenant of a great political party, the activities of which are so woven into the history of this republic, and a very sacred and solemn undertaking to interpret the faith and aspirations of the many millions who adhere to that party. The party platform has charted the way, yet, somehow, we have come to expect that interpretation which voices the faith of nominees who must assume specific tasks.

Let me be understood clearly from the very beginning. I believe in party sponsorship in government. I believe in party government as distinguished from personal government, individual, dictatorial, autocratic or what not. In a citizenship of more than 100,000,000 it is impossible to reach agreement upon all questions. Parties are formed by those who reach a consensus of opinion. It was the intent of the founding fathers to give to this republic a dependable and enduring popular government, representative in form, and it was designed to make political parties not only the preserving sponsors, but also the directing agencies through which hopes and aspirations and convictions and conscience may be translated into public performance.

People Still Supreme.

Popular government has been an inspiration of liberty since the dawn of civilization. Republics have risen and fallen, and a transition from party to personal government has preceded every failure since the world began. Under the stars and stripes we have the charted way to security and perpetuity. We know it gave to us the safe path to a developing empire which no people in the world ever rivalled. It has guaranteed the rule of intelligent, deliberate public opinion expressed through parties. Under this plan a masterful leadership becomingly may manifest its influence, but a people's will still remains the supreme authority.

The American achievement under the plan of the fathers is nowhere disputed. On the contrary the American example has been the model of every republic which glorifies the progress of liberty, and is everywhere the haven of representative democracy which has expanded his manhood. It has been wrought through party government.

No man is big enough to run this great republic. There never has been one. Such domination was never intended. Tranquility, stability, dependability—all are assured in party sponsorship, and we mean to renew the assurances which were rendered in the constitutional war.

It was not surprising that we went far afield from safe and prescribed paths amid the war anxieties. There was the unfortunate tendency before, there was the surrender of Congress to the growing assumption of the executive before the world war imperiled all the practices we had learned to believe in, and in the war emergency every safeguard was swept away. In the name of democracy we established autocracy. We are not complaining at this extraordinary bestowal or assumption in war. It seemed temporarily necessary; our alarm is over the failure to restore the constitutional methods when the war emergency ended.

Praise for the Senate.

Our vision includes more than a chief executive; we believe in a cabinet of highest capacity, equal to the responsibilities which our system contemplates, in whose councils the Vice President, second official of the republic, shall be asked to participate. The same vision includes a cordial understanding and co-ordinated activities with a house of Congress, fresh from the people, voicing the convictions which members bring from direct contact with the electorate, and cordial co-operation along with the restored functions of the Senate, fit to be the greatest deliberative body of the world. Its members are the designated sentinels on the towers of constitutional government. The restoration of the Senate's authority saved to this republic its independent nationality, when autocracy misinterpreted the dream of a world experiment to be the vision of a world ideal.

It is not difficult, Chairman Lodge, to make ourselves clear on the question of international relationship. We Republicans of the Senate, conscious of our solemn oaths and mindful of our constitutional obligations, when we say the structure of a world super-government taking visionary form, joined in a becoming warning of our devotion to this republic. If the torch of constitutionalism had not been dimmed, the delayed peace of the world and the tragedy of disappointment and Europe's misunderstanding of America's policy might have been avoided. The peace which we have now is the result of the Senate's action.

I can hear in the call of conscience an insistent voice for the largely repressed armaments throughout the world, with attending reduction of burdens upon peace-loving humanity. We wish to give of American influence and example; we must give of American leadership to that invaluable accomplishment.

I can speak unreservedly of the American aspiration and the Republican commitment for an association of nations, co-operating in sublime accord, to attain and preserve peace through justice rather than force, determined to add to security through international law, so clearly defined that no misconception can be possible without affronting world honor.

This republic can never be undiminished power, and must never forget the force of its example. Possessor of might that admits no fear, America must stand foremost for the right. If the mistaken voice of America, spoken in the hour of deepest anxiety, into a military alliance which menaces peace and threatens all freedom, instead of adding to the security of the world, must speak the truth for America and express our hope for the fraternalized conscience of nations.

Treaty Referendum. The world will not misconstrue. We do not mean to hold aloof. We do not mean to shun a single responsibility of this republic to world civilization. There is no hate in the American heart. We have no envy, no suspicion, no aversion for any people in the world. We hold to our rights, and mean to defend, aye, we mean to sustain the rights of this nation and our citizens alike, everywhere under the shining sun. Yet there is the concord of amity and sympathy and fraternity in every resolution. There is a genuine aspiration in every American breast for a tranquil friendship with all the world.

No War Save for America. It will avail nothing to discuss in detail the league covenant, which was conceived for world super-government, negotiated in misunderstanding, and intolerably urged and demanded by its administration sponsors, who resisted every effort to safeguard America, and who finally rejected it when such safeguards were inserted. If the supreme blunder has left European relationships inextricably interwoven in the league compact, our sympathy for Europe only magnifies our own good fortune in resisting involvement. It is better to be the free and independent agent of international justice and advancing civilization, with the covenant of conscience, than be shackled by a written compact which surrenders our freedom of action and gives to a military alliance the right to proclaim America's duty to the world. No surrender of rights to a world council or its military alliance, no assumed mandate, however appealing, ever shall summon the sons of this republic to war. Their supreme sacrifice shall only be asked for America and its call of honor. There is a sanctity in that right we will not delegate.

When the compact was being written, I do not know whether Europe asked or ambition insistently bestowed. It was so good to rejoice in the world's confidence in our unselfishness that I can believe our evident willingness inspired Europe's wish for our association, quite as much as the selfish thought of enlisting American power and resources. Ours is an outstanding, influential example to the world, whether we cloak it in spoken modesty or magnify it in exaltation. We want to help; we mean to help; but we hold to our own interpretation of the American conscience as the very soul of our nationality.

Disposed as we are, the way is very simple. Let the failure attending assumption, obnoxious, impracticable and delay be recognized, and let us find the big, practical, unselfish way to do our part, neither covetous because of ambition nor hesitant through fear, but ready to serve ourselves, humanity and God. With a Senate advising as the Constitution contemplates, I would hopefully approach the nations of Europe and of the earth, proposing that understanding which binds us as a willing participant in the consecration of nations to a new relationship, to commit the moral forces of the world, America included, to peace and international justice, still leaving America free, independent and self-reliant, but offering friendship to all the world.

Nationality First.

If men call for more specific details, I remind them that moral commitments are broad and all-inclusive, and we are contemplating peoples in the concord of humanity's advancement. From our own viewpoint the program is specifically American, and we mean to be Americans first, to all the world.

Appraising preserved nationality as the first essential to the continued progress of the republic, there is linked with it the supreme necessity of the restoration—let us say the re-revelation—of the Constitution, and our reconstruction as an industrial nation. Here is the transcending task. It concerns our common weal at home and will decide our future eminence in the world. More than these, this republic, under constitutional liberties, has given to mankind the most fortunate conditions for the development of one unavoidably involves the other. In conflict is disaster, in understanding there is triumph. There is no issue relating to the foundation of this industry is founded, because industry is bigger than any element in its modern making. But the insistent call is for labor, management and capital to reach understanding.

The human element comes first, and I want the employers in industry to understand the aspirations, the convictions, the yearnings of the millions of American wage-earners, and I want the wage-earners to understand the activities, the obligations of management and capital, and all of them must understand their relationship to the people and their obligation to the republic. Out of this understanding will come the unanimous commitment to economic justice, and in economic justice lies that social justice which is the highest essential to human happiness. And an speaking as one who has counted the contents of the pay envelope from the viewpoint of the earner as well as the employer. No one pretends to deny the inequalities which are manifest in modern industry. They are less in fact than they were before organization and grouping on either side revealed the inequalities, and conscience has wrought more justice than statutes have compelled, but the ferment of the world rivets our thoughts on the necessity of progressive solution, else our generation will suffer the experiment which means chaos for our day to re-establish God's plan for the great tomorrow.

Urges Greater Production.

It must be understood that toll alone makes for accomplishment and advancement, and righteous possession is the reward of toll, and its incentive. There is no progress except in the stimulus of competition. When competition—natural, fair, compelling competition—is suppressed, whether by law, compact or conspiracy, we halt the march of progress, silence the voice of aspiration, and paralyze the will for achievement. These are but common sense truths of human development.

The chief trouble today is that the world war wrought the destruction of healthful competition, left our storehouses empty, and there is a minimum production when our need is maximum. Maximums, minimums, is the call of America. It isn't a new story, because war never fails to leave depleted storehouses and always impairs the efficiency of production. War also establishes its higher standards for wages and they abide. I wish the higher wage to abide, on one explicit condition—that the wage-earner will give full return for the wage received. It is the best assurance we can have for a reduced cost of living. Mark you, I am ready to acclaim the highest standard of pay, but I would be blind to the responsibilities that serve ourselves, humanity and God. The Constitution contemplates no class and recognizes no group. It broadly includes all the people, with specific recognition for none, and the highest concentration we can

I want, somehow, to appeal to the sons and daughters of the republic, to every producer to join hand and brain in production, more production, honest production, patriotic production, because patriotic production is no less a defense of our best civilization than that of armed force. Profiteering is a crime of commission, underproduction is a crime of omission. We must work our most and best, else the destructive reaction will come. We must stabilize and strive for normalcy, else the inevitable reaction will bring its train of sufferings, disappointments and reversals. We want to hold all advanced ground, and fortify it with general good fortune.

Labor Organization.

Let us return for a moment to the necessity for understanding, particularly that understanding which concerns ourselves at home. I decline to recognize any conflict of interest among the participants in industry. The destruction of one is the ruin of the other, the suspicion or rebellion of one unavoidably involves the other. In conflict is disaster, in understanding there is triumph. There is no issue relating to the foundation of this industry is founded, because industry is bigger than any element in its modern making. But the insistent call is for labor, management and capital to reach understanding.

Let it be said to all of America that our plan of popular government contemplates such orderly changes as the crystallized intelligence of the majority of our people think best. There can be no modification of this underlying rule, but no majority shall abridge the rights of a minority. Men have a right to question our system in fullest freedom, but they must always remember that the rights of freedom impose the obligations which maintain it. Our policy is not of repression, but we make appeal today to American intelligence and patriotism, when the republic is menaced from within, just as we trusted American patriotism when our rights were threatened from without.

We call on all America for steadiness, so that we may proceed deliberately to the readjustment which concerns all the people. Our party platform fairly expresses the conscience of Republicans on industrial relations. No party is indifferent to the welfare of the wage-earner. To us his good fortune is of deepest concern, and we seek to make that good fortune permanent. We do not oppose but approve collective bargaining, because that is an outstanding right, but we are unalterably insistent that its exercise must not destroy the equally sacred right of the individual, in his necessary pursuit of livelihood. American has the right to quit his employment, so has every American the right to seek employment. The group must not endanger the individual, and we must discourage groups preying upon one another, and none shall be allowed to forget that Government's obligations are alike to all the people.

Destroying the Red Menace

Speaking our sympathies, uttering the conscience of all the people, mindful of our right to dwell amid the good fortunes of rational, conscience-impelled advancement, we hold the majesty of righteous government, with liberty under the law, to be our avoidance of chaos, and we call upon every citizen of the republic to hold fast to that which made us what we are, and we will have orderly government safeguard the onward march to all we ought to be.

The menacing tendency of the present day is not chargeable wholly to the unsettled and fevered conditions caused by the war. The manifest weakness in popular government lies in the temptation to appeal to grouped citizenship for political advantage. There is no greater peril, to be our avoidance of chaos, and we call upon every citizen of the republic to hold fast to that which made us what we are, and we will have orderly government safeguard the onward march to all we ought to be.

make today is a commitment of the Republican party to that saving constitutionalism which contemplates all America as one people, and holds just government free from influence on the one hand and unmoved by intimidation on the other.

It would be the blindness of folly to ignore the activities in our own country which are aimed to destroy our economic system, and to commit us to the colossal tragedy which has both destroyed all freedom and made Russia impotent. The movement is not to be halted in throttled liberties. We must not abridge the freedom of speech, the freedom of press, or the freedom of assembly, because there is no promise in repression. These liberties are as sacred as the freedom of religious belief, as inviolable as the rights of life and the pursuit of happiness. We do hold to the right to crush sedition, to stifle a menacing contempt for law, to stamp out a peril to the safety of the republic or its people, when emergency calls, because security and the majesty of the law are the first essentials of liberty. He who threatens destruction of the government by force or flaunts his contempt for lawful authority, ceases to be a loyal citizen and forfeits his rights to the freedom of the republic.

Collective Bargaining

Let it be said to all of America that our plan of popular government contemplates such orderly changes as the crystallized intelligence of the majority of our people think best. There can be no modification of this underlying rule, but no majority shall abridge the rights of a minority. Men have a right to question our system in fullest freedom, but they must always remember that the rights of freedom impose the obligations which maintain it. Our policy is not of repression, but we make appeal today to American intelligence and patriotism, when the republic is menaced from within, just as we trusted American patriotism when our rights were threatened from without.

We call on all America for steadiness, so that we may proceed deliberately to the readjustment which concerns all the people. Our party platform fairly expresses the conscience of Republicans on industrial relations. No party is indifferent to the welfare of the wage-earner. To us his good fortune is of deepest concern, and we seek to make that good fortune permanent. We do not oppose but approve collective bargaining, because that is an outstanding right, but we are unalterably insistent that its exercise must not destroy the equally sacred right of the individual, in his necessary pursuit of livelihood. American has the right to quit his employment, so has every American the right to seek employment. The group must not endanger the individual, and we must discourage groups preying upon one another, and none shall be allowed to forget that Government's obligations are alike to all the people.

Helping Railroads.

The work of rehabilitation under the restoration of private ownership deserves our best encouragement. Billions are needed in new equipment, not alone to meet the growing demand for service, but to restore the extraordinary depreciation due to the strained service of war. With restricted earnings and with speculative profits removed, railway activities have come to the realm of conservative and constructive service. American has the right to quit his employment, so has every American the right to seek employment. The group must not endanger the individual, and we must discourage groups preying upon one another, and none shall be allowed to forget that Government's obligations are alike to all the people.

I hope we may do more than merely discourage the losses and suffering attending industrial conflict. The strike against the Government is properly denied, for Government service involves none of the elements of profit which relate to competitive enterprise. There is progress in the establishment of official revelation of insurrectionary conditions which lead to conflict, so that unerring public sentiment may speed the adjustment, but I hope for that concord of purpose, not forced, but inspired by the common weal, which will give a regulated public service the fullest guaranty of continuity.

I am thinking of the railroads. In modern life they are the very basis of all our activities and interchanges. For public protection we have enacted laws providing for a regulation of the charge for service, a limitation on the capital invested and much authority on freight earnings. There remains only competition of service, on which to base our hopes for an efficiency and expansion which meet our modern requirements. The railway workers ought to be the best paid and know the best working conditions in the world. Theirs is an exceptional responsibility. They are not only essential to the life and health and all productive activities of the people, but they are directly responsible for the safety of traveling millions. The Government which has assumed so much authority on the public good might well stamp railway employment with the sanctity of public service and guarantee to the railway employees that justice which voices the American conception of the righteousness on the one hand, and assure continuity of service on the other.

The importance of the railway rehabilitation is so obvious that reference seems uncalled for. We are so confident that much of the present-day insufficiency and inefficiency of transportation are due to the withering hand of Government operation that we emphasize anew our opposition to Government ownership, we want to expedite the reparation, and make sure the mistake is not repeated.

It is little use to recite the story of development, exploitation, Government experiment and its neglect. Government operation and its failures. The inadequacy of trackage and terminal facilities, the insufficiency of equipment and the inefficiency of operation—all bear the blighting stamp of governmental incapacity during Federal operation.

CLOTHING COMPANY
11 W. COR. EIGHTH AND WASHINGTON AV.

cessity for the fullness of production, and we need the fullness of service which attends the exchange of products. Let us speak the irrefutable truth, high wages and reduced cost of living are in utter contradiction unless we have the height of efficiency for wages received.

Unreasonable Profits.

In all sincerity we promise the prevention of unreasonable profits, we challenge profiteering with all the moral force and the legal powers of Government and people, but it is fair, aye, it is timely, to give reminder that law is not the sole corrective of our economic ills. Let us call to all the people for thrift and economy, for denial and sacrifice if need be, for a nationwide drive against extravagance and luxury, to a recommitment to simplicity of living, to that prudent and normal plan of life which is the health of the republic. There hasn't been a recovery from the waste and abnormalities of war since the story of mankind was first written, except through work and saving, through industry and denial, while needless spending and heedless extravagance have marked every decay in the history of nations. Give the assurance of that rugged simplicity of American life which marked the first century of amazing development and this generation may underwrite a second century of surpassing accomplishment.

The Republican party was formed by farmers, with the sensitive conscience born of their freedom and their simple lives. These founders sprang from the farms of the then Middle West. Our party has never failed in its realization that agriculture is essentially the foundation of our very existence, and it has even been our policy, purpose and performance to protect and promote that essential industry. New conditions, which attend amazing growth and extraordinary industrial development, call for a new and forward-looking program. The American farmer had a hundred and twenty millions to feed in the home market, and heard the cry of the world for food and answered it, though he faced an appalling task amid handicaps never encountered before.

Farming Organizations.

In the rise of price levels there have come increased appraisals to his acres without adding to their value in fact, but which do add to his taxes and expenses without enhancing his returns. His helpers have yielded to the lure of shop and city, until, almost alone, he has met and borne the burden of the only insistent attempts to force down prices. It challenges both the wisdom and the justice of artificial drives on prices to recall that they were effective almost solely against his products in the hands of the producer and never effective against the same products in passing to the consumer. Contemplating the defenselessness of the individual farmer to meet the organized buyers of his products and the distributors of the things the farmer buys, I hold that farmers should not only be permitted but encouraged to join in co-operative association to reap the just measure of reward merited by their arduous toil. Let us facilitate co-operation to insure against the risks attending agriculture, which the urban world so little understands, and a like co-operation to market their products as directly as possible with the consumer, in the interests of all. Upon such association and co-operation should be laid only such restrictions as will prevent arbitrary control of our food supply and the fixing of extortionate prices upon it.

Our platform is an earnest pledge of renewed concern for this most essential and elemental industry and in both appreciation and interest we pledge effective expression in law and practice. We will halt that co-operation which will again make profitable and desirable the ownership and operation of comparatively small farms intensively cultivated, and which will facilitate the caring for the products of farm and orchard without the lamentable waste under present conditions.

Will Help Agriculture.

America would look with anxiety on the discouragement of farming activity either through the Government's neglect of its paralysis by Socialistic practices. A Republican administration will be committed to renewed regard for agriculture, and seek the participation of farmers in curing the ills justly complained of, and aim to place the American farmer where it ought to be—highly ranked in American activities and fully sharing the highest good fortunes of American life.

Becoming associated with this subject are the policies of irrigation and reclamation, so essential to agricultural expansion, and the continued development of the great and wonderful West. It is our purpose to continue and enlarge Federal aid, not in sectional partiality, but for the good of all America. We hold to that harmony of relationship between conservation and development, which fittingly appraises our natural resources and makes them available to developing America of today, and still holds to the conserving thought for the America of the morrow.

The Federal Government's relation to reclamation and development is too important to admit of ample discussion today. Alaska, alone, is rich in resources beyond all imagination, and needs only closer linking, through the lines of transportation, and a governmental policy that both safeguards and encourages development, to speed it to a foremost position as a Commonwealth, rugged in citizenship and rich in materialized resources.

These things I can only mention. Within becoming limits one cannot say more. Indeed, for the present many questions of vast importance

Recites His Political Credo

I believe the budget system will effect a necessary, helpful reformation, and reveal business methods to Government business.

I believe Federal departments should be made more business-like and send back to productive effort thousands of Federal employees, who are either duplicating work or not essential at all.

I believe in the protective tariff policy and know we will be calling for its saving Americanism again.

I believe in a great merchant marine—I would have this republic the leading maritime nation of the world.

I believe in a navy ample to protect it, and able to assure us dependable defense.

I believe in a small army, but the best in the world, with a mindfulness for preparedness which will avoid the unutterable cost of our previous neglect.

I believe in our eminence in trade abroad, which the Government should aid in expanding, both in revealing markets and speeding commerce.

I believe in establishing standards for immigration, which are concerned with the future citizenship of the republic, not with mere manpower in industry.

I believe that every man who dons the garb of American citizenship and walks in the light of American opportunity must become American in heart and soul.

I believe in holding fast to every forward step in unshackling child labor and elevating conditions of woman's employment.

I believe the Federal Government should stamp out lynching and remove that stain from the fair name of America.

I believe the Federal Government should give its effective aid in solving the problem of ample and becoming housing of its citizenship.

I believe this Government should make its Liberty and Victory bonds worth all that its patriotic citizens paid in purchasing them.

'Neighborly' With Mexico.

I believe the tax burdens imposed for the war emergency must be revised to the needs of peace, and in the interest of equity in distribution of the burden.

I believe the negro citizens of America should be guaranteed the enjoyment of all their rights, that they have earned the full measure of citizenship bestowed, that their sacrifices in blood on the battlefields of the republic have entitled them to all of freedom and opportunity, all of sympathy and aid that the American spirit of fairness and justice demands.

I believe there is an easy and open path to righteous relationship with Mexico. It is to be based on the unimpaired, uncertain and infirm policy has made us a culpable party to the governmental misfortunes in that land. Our relations ought to be both friendly and sympathetic; we would like to acclaim a stable government there, and offer a neighborly hand in pointing the way to greater progress. It will be simple to have a plain and neighborly understanding, merely an understanding about respecting our borders, about protecting the lives and sessions of American citizens lawfully within the Mexican dominions. There must be that understanding, else there can be no recognition, and then the understanding must be faithfully kept.

Many of these declarations deserve a fuller expression, with some suggestions of plans to emphasize the faith. Such expression will follow, in due time. I promise you.

I believe in law enforcement. If elected I mean to be a constitutional President, and it is impossible to ignore the Constitution, unthinkable to evade the law, when our every commitment is to orderly government. People ever will differ about the wisdom of the enactment of a law—there is divided opinion respecting the eighteenth amendment and the laws enacted to make it operative—but there can be no difference of opinion about honest law enforcement.

Neither government nor party can afford to cheat the American people. The laws of Congress must harmonize with the Constitution, else they soon are adjudged to be void; Congress enacts the laws, and the executive branch of government is charged with enforcement. We can neither because of divided opinion, nor nullity because of divided opinion, we can not jeopardize orderly government with contempt for law enforcement. Modification or repeal is the right of a free people, whenever the deliberate and intelligent public sentiment commands, but perversion and evasion mark the paths to the failure of government itself.

Though not in any partisan sense, I must speak of the services of the men and women who rallied to the colors of the republic in world war. America realizes and appreciates the services rendered, the sacrifices made and the sufferings endured. There shall be no distinction between those who knew the perils and glories of the battle front or the dangers of the sea, and those who were compelled to serve behind the lines, or those who constituted the great reserve of a grand army which awaited the call in camps at home.

All were brave, all were sacrificing, all were sharers of those ideals which sent our boys three-armed to war. Worthy sons and daughters, these, fit successors to those who christened our banners in the immortal beginning, worthy sons of those who saved the union and nationality when civil war wiped the ambiguity from the Constitution, ready sons of those who drew the sword for humanity's sake the first time in the world, in 1858.

The four million defenders on land and sea were worthy of the best traditions of a people never warlike in peace and never pacifist in war. They commanded our pride.

they have our gratitude, which must have genuine expression. It is not only a duty, it is a privilege to see that the sacrifices made shall be requited, and that those still suffering from casualties and disabilities shall be abundantly aided and restored to the highest capabilities of citizenship and its enjoyment.

The womanhood of America, always its glory, its inspiration and the potent, uplifting force in its social and spiritual development, is about to be enfranchised. In so far as Congress can go, the fact is already accomplished. By party edict, by my recorded vote, by personal conviction I am committed to this measure of justice. It is my earnest hope, my sincere desire that the one needed state vote be quickly recorded in the affirmation of the right of equal suffrage and that the vote of every citizen shall be cast and counted in the approaching election.

Let us not share the apprehensions of many men and women as to the danger of this momentous extension of the franchise. Women have never been without influence in our political life. Enfranchisement will bring to the polls the votes of citizens who have been born upon our soil or who have sought in faith and assurance the freedom and opportunities of our land. It will bring the women educated in our schools, trained in our customs and habits of thought, and sharers of our problems. It will bring the alert mind, the awakened conscience, the sure intuition, the abhorrence of tyranny or oppression, the wide and tender sympathy that distinguish the women of America. Surely there can be no danger there.

Advise Anti-Suffragists.

And to the great number of noble women who have opposed in conviction this tremendous change in the ancient relation of the sexes as applied to Government, I venture to plead that they will accept the full responsibility of enlarged citizenship and give to the best in the republic their suffrage and support.

Much has been said of late about world ideals, but I prefer to think of the ideal for America. I like to think there is something more than the patriotism and practical wisdom of the founding fathers. It is good to believe that maybe destiny held this new-world republic to be the supreme example of representative democracy and orderly liberty by which humanity is inspired to high achievement. It is idle to think we have attained perfection, but there is the satisfying knowledge that we hold orderly processes for making our government reflect the heart and mind of the republic. Ours is not only a fortunate people but a very common-sensical people, with vision high but their feet on the earth, with belief in themselves and faith in God.

Whether enemies threaten from without or arise from within, there is some indefinable voice saying: "Have confidence in the republic! America will go on!"

Here is a temple of liberty no storms may shake, here are the altars of freedom no passions shall destroy. It was American in conception, American in its building, it shall be American in the fulfillment. Sectional once, we are all Americans now, and we mean to be all Americans to all the world.

Mr. Chairman, members of the committee, my countrymen all: I would not be the person self if I did not utter my consciousness of my limited ability to meet your full expectations, or to realize the aspirations within my own breast, but I will gladly give all that is in me, all of heart, soul and mind and abiding love of country, to service in our common cause. I can only pray to the Omnipotent God that I may be as worthy in service as I know myself to be faithful in thought and purpose. One cannot give more. Mindful of the vast responsibilities I must be frankly humble, but I have that confidence in the consideration and support of all true Americans which makes me wholly unafraid. With an unalterable faith and in a hopeful spirit, with a hymn of service in my heart, I pledge fidelity to our country and to God, and

Bedbugs lay an average of seven eggs per day. Under favorable conditions they hatch in five days, of which three are females. They mature to adult size and are capable of laying in four weeks. How many bedbugs would you have in a year if you left one female or egg unmolested for one year? To rid the pest bedbug, you can readily see how necessary it is to use a preparation that will kill the eggs as well as the live ones. P. D. Q. has been demonstrated by the leading Hospitals, Hotels and Railroad Companies that the safest and most economical way to stop future generations of bedbugs, roaches, fleas and ants is to use the new discovery, Peaky Devil's Quinine.

30c package of P. D. Q. makes a quart, enough to kill a million bedbugs, same time destroy their eggs as well. It is impossible for them to exist when P. D. Q. is properly used. Free patent agent in every package to get the besky devil in the hard-to-see places.

Special Hospital and Hotel size $2.50—makes five gallons of P. D. Q. Your druggist has it or can get it for you, or send direct upon receipt of price by the Owl Chemical Co., Terre Haute, Ind. Success of P. D. Q. is never denied. Sold by Justice & Dyer, 1015 Union, Johnson Bros., Merckers, East St. Louis, and other leading druggists.

Used for 70 Years
Thru its use Grandmother's youthful appearance has remained until youth has become but a memory. The soft, refined, peaky white appearance it renders leaves the joy of Beauty with you for many years.

DIES OF INJURIES IN UNREPORTED ACCIDENT

Man Pitched Out on Head at Turn on July 7, Chauffeur
Tells Police

George Nielson, 49 years old, of 735 Hawk avenue, cashier for a soda water manufacturing company, died at the Deaconess Hospital yesterday
from a fractured skull sustained late at night on July 7 when he was thrown head-first from an automobile driven by Charles M. Higbee, a chauffeur, of 3820 Laclede avenue,
at Grand avenue and Pine street.
No report was made of the accident
to the police until after Nielson's death.

Higbee was arrested when he appeared at the Laclede Avenue Police Station last night to report the mishap. He gave bond for his appearance at the inquest today.

The death was the sixty-third motor vehicle fatality in the city since Jan. 1.

Chauffeur's Story of Accident.
According to the statement of Higbee and other details gathered later by the police, Higbee was driving west in Pine street with Nielson, his friend, occupying a rear seat of the Higbee automobile. As Higbee swung south into Grand avenue, Nielson, who was leaning over the side of the automobile looking ahead, lost his balance and was thrown out.

Higbee said he stopped the machine, placed Nielson inside and drove to the City Garage, Vandeventer avenue and Forest Park boulevard, where, with the assistance of some of the garage employes,
he washed the blood from Nielson's face and took him home. Nielson, he said, did not appear to be seriously injured at that time.

Police reported that not until two days later, July 9, did Nielson receive any medical attention. He became worse that night, they report,
and a physician was summoned.
The physician told the police he believed Nielson had sustained a fractured skull and injuries to his hips.
Both eyes, he reported, were blackened by the fall.

Six days later, on July 15, Nielson was removed to the Deaconess Hospital on orders from the doctor.
He died during the afternoon yesterday. Nielson was not married.

Woman Injured by Truck.
Mary Hussey, 40, living at the Working Women's Home, 3439 Lucas avenue, was seriously injured at 7 a. m. today when struck by an automobile truck driven by Iley Davis, 4005 Fairfax avenue, a negro, at Grand and Lucas avenues. At the city hospital it was said Miss Hussey had suffered a fractured leg, internal injuries and cuts and bruises.

Miss Hussey was crossing to the west side of Grand avenue on the south crossing when the truck, southbound, struck her. Davis was arrested.

Emmett O'Brien, 15, of 3952
Lucky street, was cut and bruised
when struck by an automobile driven by William C. Bascom, 2710A Accommac street, as he alighted from a Jefferson avenue car at Thomas street this morning. He was taken home. Bascom gave bond.

Boy Injured by Truck.
William Morino, 7, of 1106
North Tenth street, suffered scalp wounds and internal injuries at 3 p.
m. yesterday, when he was knocked down by an automobile truck driven by Robert Bird, 35, of 4964 Genevieve avenue, as the boy ran across the street in front of his home. Bird was arrested.

Edward W. Herron, 49, of 2719 Arsenal street, was knocked from his bicycle at High street and Lucas avenue by an automobile truck being driven south in High street, the driver of which failed to stop.
Police were given a license number by witnesses but the driver proved to be incorrect as it belonged to a touring car that had not been out of the garage for several days. Herron suffered injuries to his back and scalp wounds.

RECOMMENDS RATE FAVORING MEMPHIS NOW, BE EQUALIZED

Examiner for I. C. C. in Cotton Piece Goods Case, Would Remove Discrimination Favoring Tennessee City.

REPORT PROBABLY WILL BE ADOPTED

Move Will Aid St. Louis
Manufacturers in Keen Competition for Business With Mills of Southern City.

Recommendation that the discrimination now existing in favor of Memphis and against St. Louis in railroad rates on cotton and piece
goods from New England be removed, is made today in report of an examiner for the Interstate Commerce Commission to the commission. This is information from Washington received by P. W. Coyle, traffic commissioner of the Chamber of Commerce, which made the fight. Reports of the examiner usually adopted by the commission, as was the case in the recent bridge arbitrary decision. The hearing, in May, was the result of an application
filed last November.

The removal of the discrimination eagerly has been sought by the dry goods industry which, last year, did $200,000,000 of business, placing it among the leading industries of the city. The foundation of this city's rank as the largest distributor of dry goods in the West is piece goods received from New England mills.
The present rate on such freight from Boston to St. Louis, a distance of 1139 miles, is 96 1/2 cents. Memphis, which is 1390 miles from Boston, has a rate from Boston of 62 1/2 cents. This freight saving is the basis of very keen competition which Memphis wholesale dry goods houses give to St. Louis houses in the Southeast and Southwest.
Adoption of the recommendation
now made will remove that advantage of Memphis over St. Louis.

The Memphis rate was obtained
several years ago on the theory that that city enjoyed potential river competition and that the railroads
should be made to meet the rates
that would exist if such competition was actual. The recommendation of the examiner in this case is in line with the recent attitude of the commission that water competition must be actual if any point is to benefit through it in rail rates. Dispatches from Memphis yesterday told of the organization of a $1,000,000 corporation by Memphis men to establish freight-carrying boats on the Mississippi in order to make the water competition real.

The recommendation of the Examiner is also in line with the provision of the new transportation act, which declares that the rate to any intermediate point shall not be higher than to any terminal beyond. The application of the principle that any benefit of river competition shall not be confined to points on the river against points inland is gratifying to those fostering the present effort to revive Mississippi River shipping, who see in the Examiner's report support of their contention that the benefits of cheap river transportation shall be extended to inland towns by means of joint river and rail rates.

REVIVE OLD MINING CAMPS

DIME CREEK, SEWARD PEN-INSULA, Alaska, July 22.—Discovery of pay on the beaches, combined with the development of extensive open cut digging on Dime Creek,
will keep several camps threatened with extinction in operation for several years.

Prices are high and food is scarce
on the creek, owing to the early freeze up and the loss of the lighterage barges at Golovin last fall.
Food supplies are being hauled to the camp from Candle, two days'
distance away, and from Chinik.
Ham sells for 65 cents a pound, beacon at 80 cents, flour 13 per sack, potatoes $16 a crate, cream $11.50 a case. There are no eggs, butter or sugar on the creek for sale. The last sugar sold in the fall for 25 cents a pound. Reindeer meat is plentiful and sells for 25 cents a pound.

Miners are drawing $5 per day for eight hours' work.
There are 13 married couples on the creek and 56 unmarried men.
Twenty children attend the Dime Creek school.

STE. MARIE (ILL.) BANK IS ROBBED OF $37,000

Three Auto Bandits Get $1700 Cash and $20,000 in Liberty Bonds—Two Suspects Arrested.

STE. MARIE, Ill., July 22.—Three robbers escaped with $1700 in cash, $20,000 in Liberty bonds and warehouse certificates for 85 barrels of wheat from the Bank of Ste. Marie here yesterday.

Two men, driving a stolen automobile, later were captured in a field about eight miles from Casey, Ill., and effort will be made today to identify them as the robbers.

The robbers drove to the bank in an automobile. One remained in the car and two entered the bank with drawn revolvers, forcing R. C. Bartholme, cashier, and his assistant into the vault. The vault door was then closed, one of the robbers standing guard. The other gathered up the cash and Liberty bonds and placed them in a sack. The robbers took about three minutes.

A posse was organized at once and the arrest of the two suspects was made about 30 miles from the scene of the robbery. The car in which the men were driving was identified as having been stolen in Robinson, Ill.

F. M. SLATER WITHDRAWS AS COMMITTEE CANDIDATE

Action Due to Question as to Whether Name Could Appear Twice on Same Ballot.

Frank M. Slater, Republican candidate for nomination as Public Administrator, today asked the Board of Election Commissioners to withdraw his name from the ballot as candidate for city committeeman in the Seventeenth Ward, for which position he also was running.

Question has been recently raised whether an individual's name may appear more than once on the primary ballot and to prevent legal complications, Slater decided to withdraw his name for the Seventeenth Ward position. He is now city committeeman from that ward and has been for several terms. His only opponent would have been Ernest Little, a negro. He may be elected to that position, however, if the voters scratch the opponent's name and write Slater's on the ballot.

FORTUNE TELLER'S FINE UPHELD

Woman Who Accepted $1 From Policewoman Must Pay $50.

A fine of $50, imposed against Mrs. Mary Albovine, 1013 North Garrison avenue, in Police Court, July 22, for telling fortunes, was sustained today in the Court of Criminal Correction. Policewoman Hayes testified that she paid Mrs. Albovine a fee of $1 and that the latter told her things about relatives who never existed. Judge Krueger asked Mrs. Albovine if she could foretell what his decision would be. She replied that she could not.

FAIR PROJECT INDORSED BY JUNIOR COMMERCE CHAMBER

Organization Plans to Co-operate in Campaign for Agricultural and Industrial Exposition.

At a meeting of the Production Committee of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, held at the Chamber of Commerce Building Tuesday night, the project of an annual agricultural and industrial fair for St. Louis was indorsed. The committee further recommended in its resolution, which was forwarded to the board of directors, that the Junior Chamber furnish 500 team captains to direct the campaign for subscriptions to the fair association, which is planned for next autumn.

The project is being carried on as the St. Louis Empire Exposition and offices are maintained at the Chamber of Commerce. James Houchin is executive head of the organization.

Mrs. Sanders described the church as a "Holy Rollers" church. She said that those in attendance were rolling on the floor. "I merely did as the rest did," she said. She declared that in the process of her ejection, one of the brethren kicked her.

Mrs. Charles Hunt, wife of the "pastor" of the congregation, declared that Mrs. Sanders brandished a knife and threatened her.

COAST-TO-COAST AIR MAIL PREDICTED SOON

J. C. Koons Says Government Is Moving Rapidly on Cross-Continent Project.

Aerial mail service between this city and the Pacific Coast, by means of a connecting link with the transcontinental aerial service which is now being prepared, will be a possibility within a shorter time than most persons imagine, said John C. Koons, First Assistant Postmaster-General, who arrived in St. Louis this morning from Chicago on an inspection trip and who departs for Washington tonight.

"The Government is moving rapidly on its transcontinental project," he said, "and it will not be many months before we will be ready. While the present route is planned from New York to Chicago and thence to Omaha, another link may go by way of St. Louis through Denver.

"Airplane service is essentially of value in distance carrying of mails, and if we can cut off a couple of days in the time between the coasts, it will be a great thing from the start. Later, even this time may be improved on.

"The flights between New York and Chicago are entirely satisfactory. The Washington-New York line, the pioneer service of its sort, has largely been used for experimental purposes and has been of great value in testing planes. The new St. Louis-Chicago line will profit by the experience gained. We are still carrying about 600 pounds of mail in each flight between Washington and New York. The St. Louis-Chicago planes will carry much more."

Koons made an inspection of the local postoffice today and expressed himself as well pleased.

"The service here seems to function perfectly and I think Postmaster Selph deserves congratulations for the meritorious work he has done," he said.

NEW YORKERS GET JAIL TERM FOR VIOLATING THE DRY LAW

President and Bartender of Maxims Restaurant Each to Serve Thirty Days.

NEW YORK, July 21.—Convicted of violation of the wartime prohibition laws, Maxims' Hotel and Restaurant was fined $1000 in the United States Federal Court here today. Julius Keller, president and treasurer, was sentenced to 30 days in jail, and a bartender and two waiters received sentences of from 30 days to two months on the same charge.

Federal Judge William B. Shepard, who meted out the sentences, paroled Keller and the other men in custody of their counsel for one week to give them time to take an appeal.

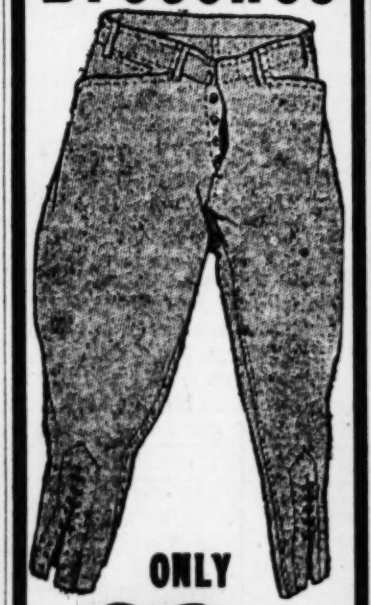

KING ALEXANDER ON SHIP AS GREEK FLEET BOMBARDS TURKS

Turkish Forces Driven Out of Rodosto by Troops Landed From Warships.

By the Associated Press. ATHENS, July 21.—King Alexander of Greece was aboard the cruiser Averoff during bombardment this morning of Rodosto, on the European shore of the Sea of Marmora. Greek troops were landed by the fleet, driving out the Turks.

Two British dreadnoughts assisted in the bombardment, which is the beginning of operations which have as their purpose the routing of the forces of Jafar Teyar Bey, Turkish commander at Adrianople, whose front extends from Adrianople through Kirk Killise to Lule Burgaz.

GIDEONS BEGIN CONVENTION IN ST. LOUIS TODAY

Organization of Commercial Travelers Gathers for Twenty-First Time Since
It Was Formed.

The Gideons, an organization of commercial travelers which has placed over 425,000 Bibles in hotels throughout the United States, met for its twenty-first annual convention at Hotel Statler this morning. The convention will be in session until Sunday evening and all the meetings will be held at the Statler with the exception of the banquet tomorrow night, which will be given at Centenary Methodist Church, Pine and Sixteenth streets. The sessions today will be occupied with the regular routine of business.

At 4 o'clock this afternoon there will be an automobile ride through the city. A musical program will be given by the St. Louis Camp at the Statler tonight. Former Senator Xenophon P. Weller will represent the Chamber of Commerce at the banquet tomorrow night, and the Rev. Charles W. Tadlock, pastor of Centenary Church, will speak for the Ministerial Association. The election of officers will take place Saturday afternoon at 1:30.

Sunday is to be a day of consecration with meetings in the lobbies of all the hotels in the city. Gideons will speak at the churches explaining the work of the organization.

The enrollment this morning was about 150, but more delegates are expected this evening and tomorrow. Following a song meeting, the convention opened at 9:30 a. m., and at 10:15 a memorial observance was held for 33 members who died in the past year. This was led by J. F. Cousart of Philadelphia, acting chaplain. A "quiet hour," ending at noon, was conducted by the Rev. Dr. John P. Harmon, former president of McKendree College, who is an honorary member of the Gideons.

The Gideons were organized in 1899 by John H. Nicholson, W. J. Knight, and J. E. Hill for the purpose of uniting Christian traveling men into an effective organization for mutual recognition and service.

Much thought was given to what the name of the organization should be, and after prayer that they might be led to select the proper one, Knight arose from his knees and said, "We will be called Gideons." He explained that Gideon was a man who was willing to do exactly what God wanted him to do, irrespective of his own judgment as to the plans or results. This is the standard that the Gideon organization is trying to establish in all of its members. According to J. C. Bennett of Chicago, national trustee and field secretary, there are over 700,000 commercial travelers in the United States and not over 20 per cent are avowedly Christians. It is to reach these men that the Gideons have placed over 425,000 Bibles in the hotels in the United States.

The national president of the organization is J. H. Humphreys of Huntington, W. Va. Other officers are S. A. Fulton, national president, Milwaukee, Wis.; A. B. T. Moore, national secretary, Chicago, Ill.; Horace D. Wells, national treasurer, Chicago, Ill.; and Col. Robert Cowden, national chaplain, Dayton, Ohio.

POLICE AID SOUGHT ON THEFTS

Herman A. Haenseler, 3117 Russell avenue, yesterday asked the police for assistance in solving a series of thefts from his home since last February. The latest theft, he said, was the disappearance of seven bottles of whiskey and two bottles of wine from his cellar. Since February, he said, four $5 lace skirts, dresser scarfs, handmade lace and towels have been stolen.

Band May Attend Legion Convention.

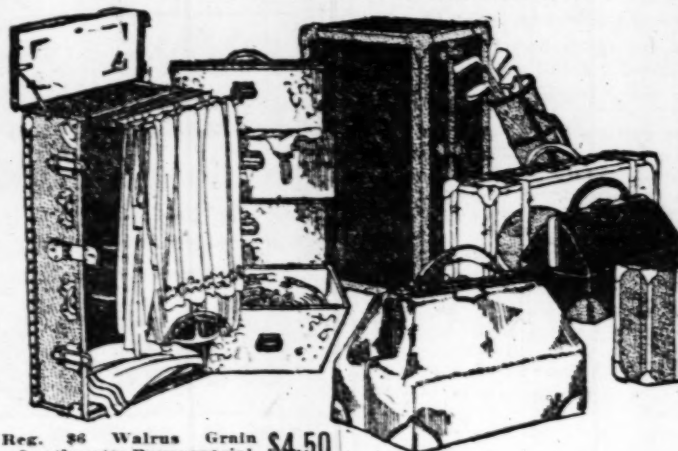

HUTCHINSON, Kas., July 22.—Bandmen of the 137th Infantry Band, originally formed here, may get together and strike up another tune or two at the State convention of the American Legion to be held in Pittsburgh next month. According to Charles A. Bagby of Wichita, who recently was here to see the Hutchinson members of the band, the plan is for the band to go on the special train which will leave here with the Legionnaires aboard for the reunion.

BUILDING AND LOAN ASSETS IN U. S. PASS $2,000,000,000 MARK

Associations Number 7788, With Total Membership of 4,289,326 and Assets of $2,126,620,390.

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, July 22.—Assets of building and loan associations of the United States have passed the two-billion-dollar mark, H. F. Cellarius of Cincinnati, secretary of the United States League of Local Building and Loan Associations, announced at the twenty-eighth annual convention here yesterday.

There are 7788 building and loan associations in the country, his report showed, with a total membership of 4,289,326 and total assets of $2,126,620,390. The gain during the last year was $228,276,044, or 12 per cent.

Pennsylvania led all the states in the increase recorded, with 110,748 new members and $45,797,507 addition to assets. New Jersey, Ohio and Massachusetts followed in order.

MRS. JEAN KNOTT ANSWERS ALLEGATIONS OF HER HUSBAND

Cartoonist's Wife Denies She Has Violent Temper and Uses Profane Language.

Mrs. Elizabeth A. Knott of 6300 Enright avenue, wife of Jean Knott, a comic artist, from whom she is seeking a divorce, filed an answer to his cross-bill yesterday in which she denied his allegations that she has a violent temper, that she danced with strange men at South Haven, Mich., last summer, and that she used profane language in the presence of their child.

She also refers to the fact that their name was given publicity in May, 1918, when Knott was mentioned in the divorce suit brought by Mrs. Lucia A. Lasar against Edward F. Lasar. She charges Knott with visiting cafes in Clayton with other women.

MOTOR CAR BANDITS ROB CLERKS OF 1300 PIECES OF MAIL

By the Associated Press.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., July 22.—Motor car bandits late yesterday held up and robbed two employees of the National Suit and Cloak Co. who were en route to the company's plant with a quantity of mail. Pouches containing 1300 pieces were taken, according to company officials, who said that most of mail contained cash and checks.

VERDICT OF HOMICIDE IN SHOOTING OF MAN

John Walsh Tells of Killing John White, Saying It Was Self-Defense.

A verdict of homicide was returned by a coroner's jury today after inquiry into the death of John White, 48 years old, 120 Clark avenue, who was shot by John Walsh, 41 years old, 753 South Third street, at Second street and Clark avenue, Tuesday evening.

The testimony was that Walsh approached White as he sat on the curb and fired two shots. White arose but fell and asked, "What are you going to do? Finish the job?" Walsh answered: "Yes, I'm going to finish you," and fired another shot into White's body and two more into his head. Walsh told the police an old feud was the cause.

Walsh today said that he was acting in self-defense. The police contended that the physical facts did not justify such an assertion.

Feared White Would Kill Him.
Walsh explained that he did not mean that he feared an attack at the time he shot and killed White, but that he had reason to believe that White for the last two years had intended to kill him on sight.

"He might not have aimed to get me Tuesday night," said Walsh, "but he was going to get me some day, and I just beat him to it. I slept better last night on the hard board in the holdover cell than I have at any time in the past two years."

Walsh said that he and White, both of whom had served penitentiary sentences for theft, were pals in "Cocaine Bottoms," where both lived, up until two years ago, when they quarreled. He would not say what the quarrel was about but he said White threatened him with a knife and told him that he would kill him at the first opportunity.

Walsh said that, fearing White would carry out his threat, he went away and remained out of town until a few weeks ago. When he returned, he said, he learned that White was still bent upon killing him.

Story of Killing.

"I got a revolver," said Walsh, "and made up my mind that if I ever met White I would shoot him before he got a chance to do anything to me. I saw him sitting on the curbing near his home Tuesday night and fired a bullet into his back. He turned and asked me if I was going to finish the job, and I replied that I was, and fired two bullets into the back of his head. I am sorry that I killed a man but I had to do it or stand a chance of being killed myself."

The only weapon found on White when he was killed was a pocket-knife.

CREATION OF BUFFER STATE IN SIBERIA AGREED UPON

Asiatic Russia to Preserve Peace and Japan to Withdraw Her Troops.

By the Associated Press.

HONOLULU, July 22.—Negotiations have been completed by Japan and Asiatic Russia regarding the creation of a buffer state in Siberia, a Government memorandum issued in Tokio today announced, according to Tokio cables to Nippu Jiji.

Asiatic Russia has agreed to preserve peace, to maintain friendly relations with Japan and abolish communism, while Japan has agreed to withdraw her troops from the buffer territory and the European Bolshevik armies are to be barred from the territory, the memorandum was quoted.

BAN ON U. S. ARTICLES LIFTED

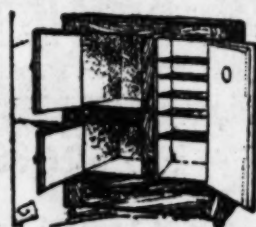

French to Permit Imports From America Once Barred.

By the Associated Press.

PARIS, July 22.—A decree repealing the one of April 23, which prohibited importation of many articles from America, has been signed and will be promulgated in a day or two. By its terms, however, there will be a considerable increase in customs duties on articles regarded superfluous to French life.

United Charities Meeting Monday.
Mrs. Annie Hinrichsen, executive director of the Illinois Department of Public Welfare, will be in East St. Louis Monday to meet with the United Charities Committee. The session will be held in the Community House.

The old way of laundering meant a cluttered, steaming-hot kitchen—a dozen different utensils were used

In the modern way of laundering—with Rinso—you just SOAK your clothes clean. The Rinso way means an orderly, cool kitchen—no utensils but the wringer and a basket

No more of this!

One day in every week—one-sixth of a lifetime—women used to spend on wash day tasks like this! Rinso washes your clothes WITHOUT RUBBING

No more of this!

No more hours of drudgery over a steaming boiler. Rinso washes your clothes WITHOUT BOILING

Just soak the clothes over night. And rinse them out spotlessly clean!

The Modern Way of Washing

You just soak your clothes clean instead of the old rubbing and boiling

Your clothes wore out this metal washboard—what did it do to your clothes?

YOU know the old way of washing well enough. The cluttered, messy kitchen. The long standing over the steaming boiler. The rubbing, rubbing of your clothes on the washboard—rubbing that frayed the edges of collars and cuffs, and faded the color out in specially hard-rubbed spots.

Next Monday, try the modern way of washing!

Just soak your clothes clean! Soak them with the wonderful new form of soap for the family washing—Rinso, the new soap product, in fine granules.

Different from anything ever before produced

Rinso is different from anything you have ever used before.

There is no solid soap to stick to the fabric—there are no harsh cleansing agents in it. Your clothes soak as safely in Rinso suds as in water alone.

Its fine granules are so rich in cleansing

value, they loosen every bit of dirt as the clothes are soaking.

Makes clothes last twice as long

You rinse the clothes in the morning, and all the loosened dirt is gone. Only a few badly soiled spots will need a light rubbing between your hands.

All the rubbing of cake soap on your clothes is saved, all the cruel rubbing on the washboard.

You need never boil your clothes, except occasionally, if you wish to sterilize. For Rinso cleans as perfectly in cold water as in hot!

Saved from all this hard treatment, your clothes actually last twice as long!

Try it on the hardest things to wash

Give Rinso just one trial—a hard trial. Try it on kitchen aprons, that have so many hard-to-get-out things spilled on them. Try it on dish towels, that you think now you have to boil clean. Try it on your small boy's suits, with the dirt just ground in.

You will be amazed at the simplicity of it—at the ease—at the clothes so clean and white, without all the old-fashioned work.

You simply cannot believe how wonderful Rinso is until you have used it week after week, and seen how beautifully white your clothes keep. Until you have seen how much longer they wear, and keep their colors.

Start using Rinso this week

Begin with your very next week's washing to launder clothes the modern way.

See what a simple matter the weekly washing becomes when you follow the easy directions on the Rinso package.

Get Rinso from your grocer. One package will do your whole week's washing.—Lever Bros. Co., Cambridge, Mass. (Makers of Lux.)

"You can see by your hands how safe the Rinso way of washing clothes is. It doesn't redden them—it doesn't get them rough or wrinkled."

Rinso

the new form of soap for the family washing

MADE BY THE MAKERS OF LUX

Rinso is not a "washing powder"

The fine granules of Rinso look much like a "washing powder," but—make this test. Use a heaping teaspoonful to a glass of boiling water

"WASHING POWDER"—high in harsh chemicals—low in soap

RINSO—absolutely harmless—so rich in soap it "jells"

Exchange on London Lowest Since April - German Marks Decline Sharply.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, July 22.—The Evening Post, in its copyrighted financial review today, says:

"The most striking movements in the financial markets today did not occur on the Stock Exchange, but among the foreign exchanges, where the market was characterized by a moderate reaction, and closing with renewed firmness in most shares. Excesses were some of the weaker sugar stocks, the latter being affected by a 3-cent reaction in sugar prices by one of the refiners. Railway shares were as a rule up fractionally, with sharp gains in a few issues, including the Lackawanna. The Bank of England weekly statement contained no unusual features. An incident of the day was the establishment of a new high record price in the trading in future cotton, the July option advancing to the extent of nearly 1/8 a bale. This, however, very nearly represents 'spot' cotton, and the price of that, more than is true of the more distant months, reflects largely the scantiness of available supplies.

Marked Sharply Lower.

"After some weakness earlier in the day the market for sterling exchange bordered on demoralization during the later hours. Against yesterday's closing at $2.82 1/2, the pound sterling dropped to $2.79 3/4. This was the lowest figure touched since the end of April. French francs declined 1/8 cent to 16.75. German marks went from 2.15 to 2.12 cents, and declines of almost equal proportions occurred in other exchange rates.

"One explanation suggesting itself is that speculative purchases, and even purchases made for legitimate business requirements, had reached a volume hardly suspected by the general community. The high hopes entertained as to the program of industrial reconstruction to be launched by the Spa and Brussels conferences had unquestionably given rise to the feeling in many quarters that exchange rates only one way now—that is, up."

"Today's classified statement of gold exports and imports during the first 10 days of July issued by the Federal Reserve Board contained the interesting information that during that period $1,000,000 of gold was sent to Japan. Aside from this, we should have had an excess of imports totaling $1,000,000 during the 10-day period. Since the beginning of the year the balance of gold shipments has been against the United States to the extent of $7,000,000, a not inconsiderable sum. Compared with last year, however, the net outward movement has been moderate, for in that year we shipped abroad $251,000,000 more than we received.

Japanese Situation.

"The shipments to Japan are particularly interesting because of the sudden reversal in that country's trade with foreign countries. With Japanese exports to the outside world falling below imports, the necessity of shipping gold to Japan to pay off indebtedness is disappearing. Nevertheless, Japanese exchange on our markets has remained at a small premium. During the year, Japan's inability to withdraw its gold balances from the country, unable or unwilling to withdraw its gold balances from the country, invested them largely in our treasury bills and other securities. Considerable sums have been realized from these holdings and such sales, possibly accounted for the recent gold shipments. Japan, also, during the early months of this year, drew gold accumulated here during the war, but more recently the movement has been turned completely in favor of the United States."

Foreign Exchange and Domestic Money

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, July 22.—Weakness in the exchange situation was more pronounced today, when there was a further decline in the pound sterling and a moderate reaction in the dollar market. The London market was characterized by a moderate reaction, and closing with renewed firmness in most shares. Excesses were some of the weaker sugar stocks, the latter being affected by a 3-cent reaction in sugar prices by one of the refiners. Railway shares were as a rule up fractionally, with sharp gains in a few issues, including the Lackawanna. The Bank of England weekly statement contained no unusual features. An incident of the day was the establishment of a new high record price in the trading in future cotton, the July option advancing to the extent of nearly 1/8 a bale. This, however, very nearly represents 'spot' cotton, and the price of that, more than is true of the more distant months, reflects largely the scantiness of available supplies.

COOKING GEORGE-HIRAM'S GOOSE

by MAUDE RADFORD WARREN

SECOND INSTALLMENT.

GEORGE-HIRAM got up, and went into the house with his mother.

"Do what he says, Georgie," she whispered; "you mustn't annoy him, dear."

George-Hiram's frown disappeared.

"Honestly, I don't care much which job I take, mother," he said. "The trouble with me is that everything comes too easily."

"Living on eight hundred a year wouldn't, when you've been spending five thousand at Yale," his mother said. "But if you take this New York position your uncle will continue your allowance."

"If he does, I'll bank it for you," George-Hiram stated. "Hereafter I'm going to live on what I make."

"The idea of my baby making anything," she said, with the loving maternal contempt which a young man finds it so hard to forgive. "Shall we run upstairs, dearie, and see if your room is just as you want it?"

A quarter of an hour later George-Hiram heard his uncle's voice raised in the loud, strident tones which advertised that the patriarch was having what his kin called "a tantrum." George-Hiram knew by the sounds that this one was particularly fierce, and he ran downstairs, followed by his trembling mother, to help assuage the head of the family.

The patriarch stood on the porch, grasping the back of his chair and pointing a tense arm at red-haired Helen Bray, who faced him with her head thrown back, her brown eyes unwavering. When George-Hiram and his mother reached the front door she was saying:

"Don't yell at me, you horrid, wicked old man. I am not afraid of you! I'm not one of your relations."

"You're worse!" shouted the patriarch. "You're a sneaking sentimental, coming to me to get influence you haven't earned. A dead bat, that's what you are, wanting me to get you pupils, not because you know how to teach, but because, for a few weeks, I made a fool of myself over your mother. Get out of my house, and before I'll through I'll drive you out of town."

"I'm going," the girl said, "not, as I say because I'm afraid of you, but because I hate to be near ill-bred bores. My mother killed you because you were a boor and a tyrant, and I'm glad she did! And don't you think you can drive me out of this town. You don't own it all."

She turned and walked down the steps. George-Hiram shot after her, for, despite her defiant words, he had seen that her lips and her hands were trembling. His mother stretched a detaining arm after him in vain.

"George-Hiram, sir," boomed the patriarch, "come back here!"

George-Hiram walked on beside Helen. "Yes, go back!" said Helen, in a trembling voice. "Can't you hear your master calling you? Go back!"

"Allow me to escort you to the gate," said George-Hiram. "I can't tell you how sorry!" Helen paused long enough to stamp her foot. "Go back!" she said. "Can't you see that I want to be alone?"

"I know that," said George-Hiram, "but somehow I've got to take you as far as the gate." They walked on a few paces in silence and then Helen said: "Miserable old devil!"

"Old, you know," George-Hiram said; "we have to excuse old people, because they're not young."

"Oh, yes," she jeered. "I wonder how long you'd excuse him if he wasn't rich? If he had no money, that old man would be peeling potatoes in your mother's kitchen, with no one to snap at but the cat, whereas now he's got 12 cowardly nephews and nieces and four scared-to-death sisters."

George-Hiram colored. This red-headed Helen certainly had a shrewish tongue. He made no answer, calculating with relief the few paces that remained between themselves and the front gate.

"If I thought she was a peach a while ago," he thought, "I take it back. She may be a peach, but she's a pickled one."

At the gate Adam appeared.

"Well, Adam," said Helen, in a nasty tone, "been skulking in the shrubbery?"

"I told you not to go to him," Adam almost wailed. "I told you."

"Oh, Adam," she said, sadly, "what you didn't tell me was that you were a coward."

"You don't understand," said Adam, hurriedly. Helen evidently wanted to understand, for she turned to George-Hiram and, stamping her foot for the second time, she shrieked, "Go away!" George-Hiram went, rapidly. As he hurried toward the house he reflected:

"Gosh, she must be fond of Adam! And gosh! What a temper! I guess uncle was well out of it that he didn't marry her mother. He's had a pleasanter time with us—bullying us, she'd say!"

Half way down the walk his mother met him. "Oh, Georgie," she whispered; "he's terribly angry! You must go to him at once and apologize. I don't know what you'll say, I'm sure!"

George-Hiram stood stock still in the path. "O—Oh, Georgie!" she moaned, half terrified, half admiring.

He caught the note of admiration.

"Listen here," he said, "unless you marry the doctor, I won't take the brokerage job. Then uncle will disinheret me, sure!"

"Georgie!"

"Isn't it nicer to be bossed by your son than your brother?" George-Hiram asked, his good nature restored. "I'm going to jump the doctor's wall now and go tell him I accept him as a step-father."

George-Hiram put his hands on her shoulders and looked steadily in her eyes.

"Mother, dear," he said, "I've changed this morning toward our esteemed relative and the family life here. Maybe it's because I've left college and am going on my own. Maybe it's because I heard a young girl stand up to uncle and tell him just what he and the rest of us are like. Anyhow, I'm going to act like a man to him now not like a little boy that must be in the wrong because he's little, and that has to be agreeable

He was of a very easy temper. But Helen's remarks had irritated him, and the scene in which she had taken part had made him obscurely ashamed of himself and his family.

"I won't apologize," he said.

"O—Oh, Georgie!" she gasped; "think of your prospects!"

"All right," snarled George-Hiram, "I'm thinking of them. What's the worst he can do? Disinherit me and turn us both out. Very well; then you can marry Dr. Hale and I'll either take the teaching job here or the brokerage job in New York."

"Oh, please, George-Hiram, don't! Oh, please go to your uncle and apologize."

Where Women Keep Money:

Pinned in Hat Crown
Tacked in Stocking
Fastened in Waist

But None of These Is Satisfactory

Now That Girls Have More Cash Than Ever Before, Who Will Invent a Convenient Method of Carrying It?

BY MARGUERITE DEAN

WHERE DO WOMEN CARRY THEIR MONEY?

"First National Bank" Joe-millers the male reader. And often he is right. Just the other day the case of Mrs. Ella McWoodson of East Plymouth, Conn., was featured in the news. Owing her long-continued observance of the old tradition as to where women should keep their cash, she may have to have her leg amputated. The doctors say that its condition is caused by germs from frequently handled bills.

Just now there seems to be an uncommon amount of dirty money in circulation, and if it really ended up in the pockets of the individual who had better keep it out of her stocking. Which suggests once more the query, "Where do women—where can women—keep their money?"

Neel O'Hara says that a fortune awaits a person who can invent a leg-size pocket for residents of the State of Maine in the vicinity of the Canadian border. Another fortune is at the disposal of the individual who can devise a money-size pocket for women which will be safe, accessible to the wearer and inconspicuous.

Just now, women's skirts and even their coats are made with pockets. But does any woman keep her money therein? For the large, exceedingly obvious pockets plastered on the front of one's white linen skirt, or just below the belt of the coat to a child's broad suit, can be burgled by a thief.

No woman with any sense carries any object more valuable than a handkerchief in these apparently harmless pockets. And besides—as tailor or dressmaker will tell you—these pockets are not meant to be used. Carrying in them anything is sure to make them sag or bulge, and spoil the "set" of the garment.

Nine women out of 10 carry money in the inevitable handbag of cloth, leather, beads or mesh, which has become as much a part of a woman's costume as her skirt or her corsets. Men laugh at the handbag, pointing out how easily the clasp may be sprung open or the handles cut by a pickpocket in a crowd. But necessity is the mother of invention, and the woman who habitually must carry money in a handbag through crowds has learned to put a firm and protective grip OVER the clasp, with the handle of the bag resting on her arm instead of in her hand. Nothing short of a straight-out tug, with plenty of muscle behind it, can get her handbag or its contents away from her when she holds it in this fashion.

"Carry your money in TWO places," the far-seeing and cautious mother or aunt invariably tells her girls. "Keep what you want for immediate use, including your change, in your handbag. But always place at least one bill in a small bag—one made of chamois-skin can be bought for 10 cents—and carry it"—well, here counsels divide. Some mothers suggest that the bag be pinned or tied

under the stocking, just above or below the knee. Or, of course, pinning the "emergency fund" just inside the top of the corset, in front. This location is satisfactory if your blouse or dress fastens in front, but is rather annoyingly inaccessible if you happen to be wearing one of the newest blouses which fastens in the back.

The idea back of this procedure is that if your handbag is lost or stolen you will not be left without carfare home—or if you are traveling—funds to pay for a telegram home and, if necessary, an overnight hotel bill.

"Carry my purse FOR me, dear," a woman often says to her husband when they are going out together. That is, provided he is a trustworthy husband, and provided she wants a purse for any purpose when he is alone for the night.

I have heard of a money-bag of heavy canvas, with a strap and a clasp, which can be strapped about a woman's waist and which is big enough to hold considerable sums of money—such sums as she might be collecting, or taking to the bank. That method of carrying money would be safe—if not ornamental, or adapted to best clothes and formal occasions.

I never knew a woman to carry money in the crown of her hat, but I don't see why a roll of bills could not be placed there in perfect safety, if the hat were pinned securely on the head. And now that fashion places a belt or a sash on every costume, small pockets for money could be fastened on the inside of the girlish, somewhat as a man's money-belt is arranged.

Once upon a time it didn't matter where a woman kept her money, for the simple reason that she rarely had any to keep. Now that an ever-increasing number of women are connecting with pay envelopes, a safe and convenient place to put them is needed.

Who will invent or discover it?

Japanese Women Order Foreign Wardrobe

Lay Aside Kimonos for American Garb.

AMERICAN women leaving for a sojourn in Japan do not habitually lay aside their kimonos for the cherry blossom land but our Japanese sisters planning a like trip to America, order an American wardrobe, according to a Y. W. C. A. secretary in Yokohama, one of whose spring jobs has been to aid Japanese women travelers in their preparations. The women take their tailors to the home of the secretary and under her directions, and with the aid of New York's latest fashion books, have up-to-date American gowns made. Appropriate hats are most difficult to supply, as few are made in Japan. The hardest task is buying shoes for the women who have never had shoes on their feet.

Little Mrs. Peter's Surprise.

By THORNTON W. BURGESS.

PETER RABBIT felt as if he ought to pinch himself to make sure, quite absolutely sure, that he was awake. Two whole days and two whole nights Peter had been away from the dear old Briar-patch, and he had expected what he knew he richly deserved—the sharpest kind of a scolding from little Mrs. Peter, who he had left to worry all that time. Instead of that scolding, he had received the gentlest of welcomes.

That was enough to upset Peter. He couldn't account for it at all. But, added to this, was the fact that little Mrs. Peter had been very mysterious. Yes, sir, she had warned him not to make the faintest, slightest bit of noise, and then had told him to sit down and wait until she was ready to show him something she had. And with it all had been such a lot of mystery that Peter didn't know what to make of it.

Now, Peter doesn't like mystery. He doesn't like it a bit. You see, anything mysterious arouses his curiosity, and when Peter's curiosity is aroused he cannot be happy until it is satisfied. Peter's curiosity was aroused now. Yes, indeed, it was very much aroused. What could it be that little Mrs. Peter was going to show him?

"Wonder what she has got to show me," he kept saying over and over to himself. "Wonder what she has got to show me. I don't know anything in the Old Briar-patch I don't know about. Wonder what it can be."

After what Peter seemed ages and ages, but which really was no more than a few minutes, little Mrs. Peter came tiptoeing back and again Peter noticed that her eyes were shining with the softest, loveliest light in the world. It puzzled him. He couldn't account for it unless it was her gladness over his safe return. He wanted to think that was the cause of it, but somehow he couldn't quite believe it was.

Little Mrs. Peter was even more mysterious than before. She talked in a whisper. "Follow me, Peter," she whispered, "and whatever you do, don't make a bit of noise. I've got the most wonderful surprise for you that ever was. You'll say so when you see it. Now step softly and don't speak."

Little Mrs. Peter led the way behind a thick old bramble-bush. Peter had to almost crawl to get under the clutched old brambles. It was in a part of the Old Briar-patch he hadn't visited for a long time. Neither he nor Mrs. Peter had used it, and so they hadn't kept their private little paths open.

A little way back of the old bramble-bush little Mrs. Peter stepped one side and motioned for Peter to join her. "There!" she whispered in one of his long ears. "There, Peter Rabbit! Were you ever so surprised in all your life? And isn't it the very nicest surprise that ever was?"

Peter looked where she was pointing. Then he gave a funny little gasp and sat down weakly. He was surprised. There wasn't the least bit of doubt about that. In fact, there never was a more surprised rabbit in all the great world.

Peeping Pansy Fairy Tales

BY MARIE, QUEEN OF ROUMANIA

Cussy Let His Tears Run Like a Stream That Would Never Dry Up.

A LITTLE TIFF WITH CUSSY.

HARDLY had Pansy pressed down the door handle than Tim and Cussy burst into the small room in a most unseemly manner, much upsetting the neat order of the lavender-strewn floor.

"Why did you run away from us?" panted Cussy; "I knew that that horrid luminous beast you are in love with would play me a nasty trick! It's just like his sneaking way, thinking that you and the world belong to him, because he is the color of the sun and because he has legs like thin spindles, and that his tail from afar resembles a golden flag."

"Cussy," scolded Pansy severely, "when one comes into a lady's house, one says 'Good-morning!'"

"I don't like ladies."

"Cussy, if you don't behave, I shall have nothing more to do with you; I shall get on to Sunshine's back, and I shall gallop away so quickly that you'll never find me again."

"Oh, but I shall hang on to his beautifully golden tail with my teeth, so that he'll have to drag me with him everywhere, even if he is doing so I rub off all my beautiful fur coat," snarled Cussy.

"Oh, Cussy. No nasty little boy was ever as detestable as you. I followed you!" Then turning to her hostess, "I do beg your pardon, ma'am," she exclaimed, "but this dreadful little fellow would follow me—and I knew there would be trouble, because he has no manners, but come he would, and what's really provoking is, that it's because he is so fond of me that he worries me so much."

"That happens to other creatures besides bears," said Dame Dummymydoe, "but I must admit that you have outnumbered your party with a somewhat troublesome personage. Come here, little bear!"

Cussy raised a black snout, but did not move. "Are you deaf?" inquired the old lady.

"It would be more for your old ears to be deaf than mine," was Cussy's rude reply.

"Oh, you mean to be funny, do you?" cried the old lady. "If that's the game, I can be funny, too; it's merely a question of who can be funniest," and making a sudden, quite unexpected movement, that took everybody by surprise, Dame Dummymydoe threw an empty sack, which she produced all of a sudden, right over Cussy's head and forepaws. Pulling the string attached to it, she held the tiny, soot-colored bear baby completely captive, in spite of his desperate wriggles and growls.

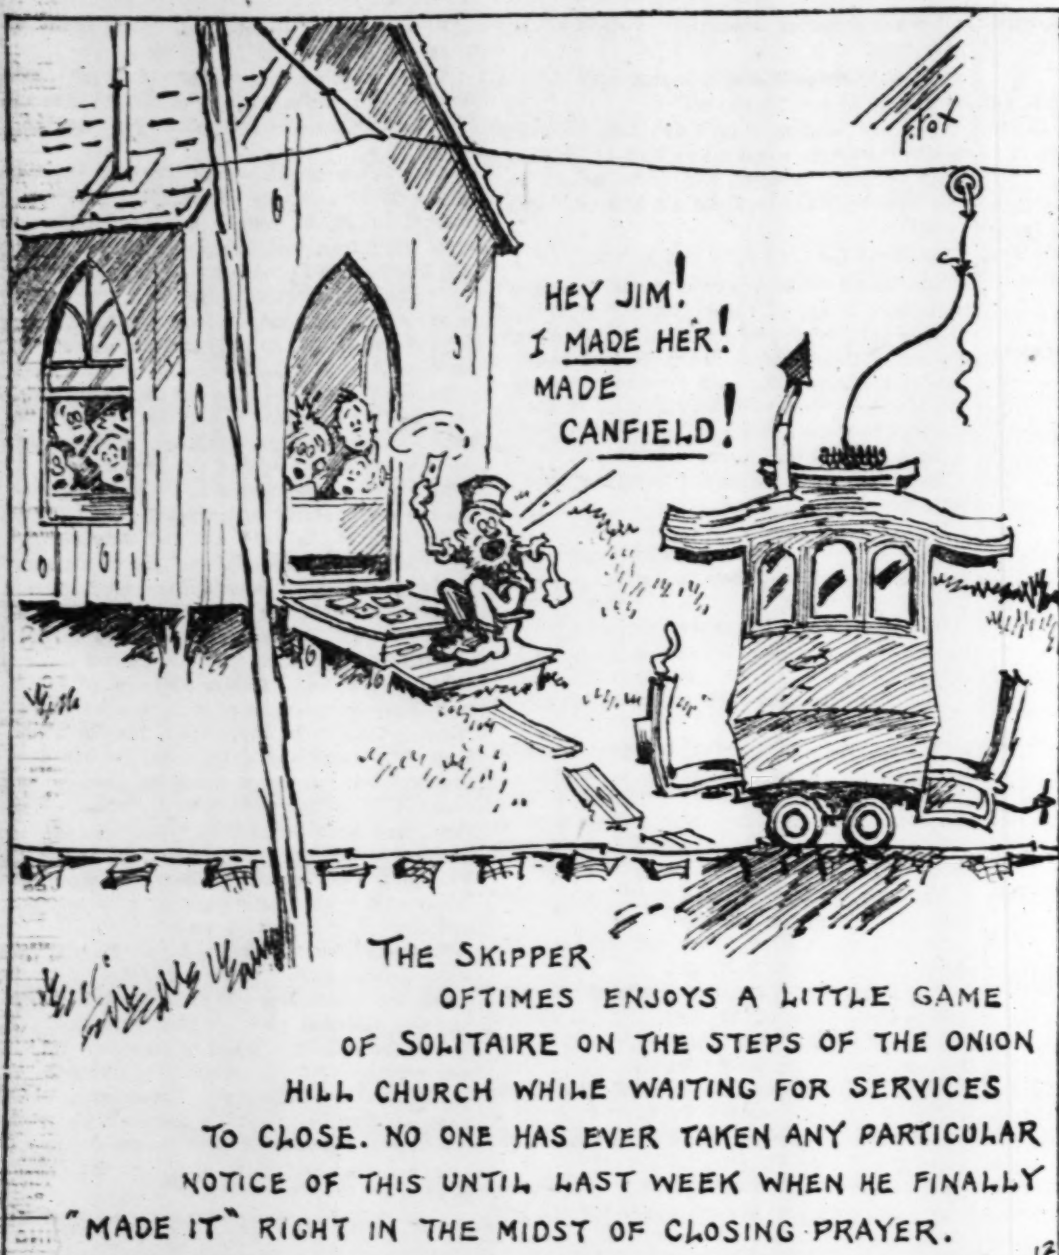

Pansy laughed as if her sides would break.

"I never saw anything so cleverly done," she cried; "you are a wonderful old lady, and now, of course, he can't be rude any more inside that dark sack. Then suddenly she stopped. "But you won't smother him, will you, ma'am, please—because, although he is horribly naughty, I am very fond of him all the same."

"He's not such a tender little victim," chuckled the dame; "I'll just teach him not to be rude with old Dummymydoe. I might have turned him into a mouse or a toad, but thought this was better."

Pansy stared at her open-mouthed.

Hard Words.

Two simple words of English speech,

Some men, perhaps, say it with ease,
But when arms, rounded, soft and

MORE TRUTH THAN POETRY

By James J. Montague.

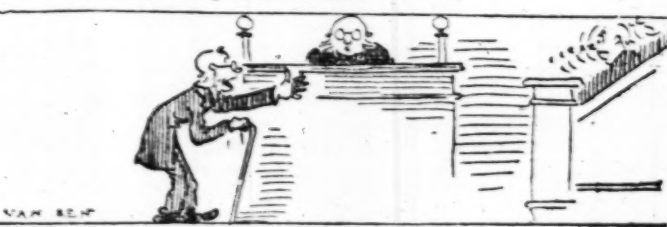

A SONG OF CHEER.
Cheer up, if you never have had any luck.
At plumbing or lugging the hod,
If fate, for a joke leaves you ruined or broke.
At sixty or seventy odd;
You only need study up pleadings and torts,
And embark on a legal career,
And succeed, like as not, by the time you have got
To your hundred and twentieth year.

At a hundred and five you will probably think
Your career is a tough one to carve,
Young lawyers like you very often get blue.
When they fancy they're destined to starve.
But you may get a start at a hundred and ten,
If the wolf only lets you alone,
And be ready to delve, at a hundred and twelve
Into cases and suits of your own.

And then you may possibly go on the bench
And sit with a scowl on your brow,
And look just as dumb and decrepit as some
Of the gentlemen sitting there now.
And when you go back to your practice once more,
You'll be quite amazed at the ease
And freedom with which you can shake down the rich,
And gather retainers and fees.

So don't be concerned though the years bow you down,
Your step may be halting and slow;
Your eyesight may flag and your faculties lag
And your hair be a few shreds of snow!
But the older you get, All the more you will find
That the people regard you with awe,
For the refuge of age in its uttermost stage
Is always the practice of law!

THEY'LL MEET THEIR WATER-LOO.

It must be a Legislature composed wholly of bachelors that recently proposed to regulate women's clothes.

LEGAL MIXUP FOLLOWS PRISONER'S REARREST

Higginsville Man, Out on Bond, Again Taken Into Custody by Deputy.

Solomon Magdison, 48 years old, of 7700 Weaver avenue, who was arrested last Sunday on a charge of obtaining goods under false pretenses at Higginsville, Mo., is the center of a legal controversy in which Attorney-General McAllister, Prosecuting Attorney Charles A. Keith of Lafayette County, Missouri, and, indirectly, Judge Krueger of the Court of Criminal Correction, are figures.

Although released on bond by Judge Krueger, Magdison was arrested in Chief O'Brien's waiting room at police headquarters today, was booked as a prisoner by Deputy Kelly in the holdover and was told he will have to accompany Kelly to Lafayette County tonight at 11:30.

Magdison was released after his arrest on $800 bond authorized by Judge Krueger. Soon after bond was given, Kelly arrived to claim the prisoner. Kelly had a warrant issued in Higginsville.

When he learned Magdison had been released, he called up the Attorney-General. In a letter to Chief O'Brien the latter said he did not think Judge Krueger understood the circumstances in the case and that, under the law, the authorities of Lafayette County alone had the right to issue bond in the case.

When Kelly visited Judge Krueger's court this morning and found Magdison and his attorney, Carl Dubinsky, preparing to extend the bond until tomorrow, he again communicated with the State authorities. On their instructions he read his warrant to Magdison in the receiving room at police headquarters, took Magdison to the holdover and

PESKY BED BUGS

(Pesky Devil's Outlets) P. D. Q. is a new chemical that puts the everlasting to the pesky bedbugs, roaches, fleas, ants and cockroaches—impossible for the pesky devil to exist where P. D. Q. is used.

Recommendations of Hotels, Hospitals, Railroad Companies and other public institutions are a guarantee to the public that the safest, quickest and most economical way of ridding the pesky insects is by the use of P. D. Q., as this chemical kills the eggs as well as the live ones, and will not injure the clothing.

A 35c package makes a full quart, enough to kill a million bedbugs, roaches, fleas or cockroaches—and also contains a patent about to get the egg nests in the back-to-back places, and saves juice.

Special Hospital rate, $2.50 makes five gallons—contains three quarts—supplied by drugists. Sold by Judge & Dolph Drug Co., 1007 Olive St., St. Louis.

ADVERTISEMENTS

An Aid to Wearing This Season's Fashions (Helps to Beauty)

Here is a simple, unfailing way to rid the skin of objectionable patches. With some powdered talcum and water make enough paste to cover the blemish, apply and in about 2 minutes rub off. Each the skin and every trace of blemish has vanished. This is quite harmless, but to avoid disappointment be sure to get the talcum in an original package.

Government Acts To Lower Living Costs

The Secretary of War orders immediate release and sale to the American public of all meats declared surplus at extremely low prices.

By the immediate disposal of its entire surplus stock of canned meats, at the extremely low prices at which they will be sold, the Government delivers a powerful blow at the high cost of living.

Corned Beef—Corned Beef Hash—Roast Beef—Bacon

Quality Guaranteed

These commodities were packed by the leading packing houses of North and South America, are in airtight tins, and will keep for years. The meats were selected by experts, representing both the United States Government and the packing houses, and only the choicest selections used. They were prepared and packed under this same supervision. Six million men and women in the service of their country, at home and abroad, thrived upon them almost exclusively. And an army of 2,000,000, the principal meat diet of which consisted of Corned Beef—Corned Beef Hash—Roast Beef—Bacon, returned from overseas the healthiest, bravest army the world has known.

Guarantee of Condition

The Government guarantees to deliver these meats in perfect condition. The most rigid inspection was made of these products as they were packed and every single can carries with it the guarantee of the Government to stand back of it, both as to quality and condition.

The Corned Beef, Corned Beef Hash, and Roast Beef are packed mainly in one and two-pound cans—some in six-pound cans. The bacon is packed in 12-lb. cans.

Distribution—Nation-wide

Every available outlet will be used in distributing these meats. Every retailer, from the smallest to the largest, whether he carries groceries or not, will perform a duty he rightfully owes to every citizen in his community by acting as a medium through which these
